Varied Sport Activities Feature July 1 Holiday; Weather Outlook Good

Kaleden Man, Former Student Here, Badly Wounded In Korea

Private William Frederick Bolen, of Kaleden, has been seriously wounded in the arm and chest in a Korean attack, according to a telegram received by his mother, Mrs. Ann Bolen, of Kaleden.

Private Bolen lived in Kaleden for six years before joining the service. He was educated in Penticton where he was prominent in school activities.

The 20-year-old soldier joined the Princess Patricia's Paratroopers in January of last year. After training at Camp Borden, Ontario, and at Wainwright, Alta, he embarked for Korea in October of last year.

He and his regiment were moved into front line positions on arrival in the war theatre where they have stayed since that time without leave. No details of the engagement in which the young Kaleden man was wounded have been released.

Penticton's growing reputation as a tourists' summer playground is expected to bring hordes of visitors to this city for the July 1 holiday next Tuesday.

Local auto court and hotel operators and other businesses and organizations connected with the visitor industry are prepared for the anticipated record influx and a varied program of sports and entertainment awaits visiting holidaymakers. All that remains uncertain is the co-operation of the weatherman, and even he has promised sunny skies and warm temperatures.

With visitors and local people out to make the most of the mid-week holiday and with the weather forecast encouraging, it is expected that Penticton's wide variety of sports and recreational facilities will be put to good use.

For the holidayer who likes to take his vacation easy there are the beaches and lovely parks, or if he wants excitement, but doesn't want to work at it, there is the baseball tournament at King's Park and the Penticton Riding Club's annual gymkhana at Queen's Park.

For those who prefer activity there are the golf course, the tennis courts, roller skating, swimming, and fishing in this district's numerous and well stocked lakes and streams.

Hotel and auto court operators are anticipating a heavy influx of visitors from the coast this week-end as Vancouverites, tired of continual rain, seek bluer skies and warmer temperatures here in the Okanagan.

"They've had so much rain they'll be up here with their tongues hanging out for dryer weather," one hotel operator said.

Some are booking accommodation for Monday and Tuesday as well as the week-end, but it is expected that there will be plenty of room for all.

FACILITIES IMPROVED
Last year it was claimed that some visitors were unable to find accommodation, but since then (Continued on Page 5.)

ONLY POSTAL TRUCK GIVEN FREE PARKING

Only the post office parcel delivery truck will be allowed parking concessions in the city's metered zone, council decided Monday, in approving a recommendation by Alderman Wilson Hunt, chairman of the traffic committee.

The post office truck may park for ten minutes in any stall while deliveries are being made. Taxis will be allowed parking space on the payment of $20 per annum for each stall used.

Presenting his report, compiled after studying the policies of other B.C. centres, Alderman Hunt declared that the committee could not see how they could fairly grant concessions to some without giving those concessions to any city merchant who makes deliveries.

Permits will be given to city officials for use while on city business, but these must be signed by the city clerk and abuse will mean suspension of the privileges.

Council also agreed that taxis should be allowed to park free for two minutes while loading or unloading passengers.

Start Research On Hail Control

First hail control research by any government in the world, so far as is known, will be undertaken in the Okanagan Valley of British Columbia, with a Dominion Meteorological Service, and National Research Council representative directing, and with the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, the B.C. Fruit Growers Mutual Hail Insurance Company and, if it can be arranged, the Provincial Forestry Service, co-operating.

Arrangements for the first project in this hail control campaign were made when R. H. Douglas, of the Meteorological Service, attached to the low temperature laboratory of the National Research Council, Ottawa, conferred with three members of the BCGA, executive, J. M. Eddy, North Okanagan; Sam Pearson, Central Okanagan; and Colin McKenzie, South Okanagan; C. A. Hayden, BCGA public relations; E. A. Titchmarsh, president; J. A. English; and general manager George H. Northam, of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Mutual Hail Insurance Company.

It was agreed after Mr. Douglas explained that there was absolutely no precedent nor actual data upon which action could be designed, that the first requisite was observations in the Okanagan Valley during the hail storm season.

These observations would record the nature of hail storms, their direction and, if possible, their area of origin; together with the cloud formations and changes, the temperatures before the storms and various other observations that would enable the meteorological division to arrive at some form of conclusions which could be proved later for accuracy and reliability.

Mr. Douglas agreed to draft a simple form on which the observations could be recorded. Mr. Northam helped in this drafting.

The BCGA will approach Dr. G. D. Orchard, deputy minister of forests, Victoria, and will invite the co-operation of his division (Continued on Page 5.)

Start Work On United Church Sunday School

Work on Penticton's $30,000 Sunday school was started this week when the first sod was turned on the site adjacent to the United Church on Main street.

To be built by contributions of money, labor and materials the school will be a two-story structure with fifteen rooms including a new kitchen, church office and a nursery room.

Campaign for funds opened the Sunday after Easter and, according to the Rev. Ernest Rands, more than $10,000 in pledges and cash was received on that first day.

Since then over $5,000 has been collected and there is also $8,000 on hand from a previous campaign.

Although the cost is estimated at $30,000 it is expected that, because of the donated time and materials, the building will be worth about $50,000 when it is opened before the end of this year.

Supervising the volunteer labor of the Sunday School, which is to follow the architectural lines of the church, is A. E. Weight, retired Vancouver contractor. Specialist jobs like plumbing and light installation may be contracted out but it is likely that tradesmen, members of the church, will offer their services.

Professor Tankard To Give Piano Recital, Lecture Here On July 8

PROF. GEOFFREY TANKARD

Carmel Road Pupils Give $20 To Hospital

City hospital authorities were pleasantly surprised last week when a donation of $20 was made to the hospital fund-raising fund by the students in grades 4 and 5 at the Carmel road school.

The children also presented about 20 set-up books containing cartoons and humorous drawings clipped from magazines.

Money was raised through the sale of egg cartons, bottles, coat hangers and apples. The sales also realized another $30 which was given to the Junior Red Cross Society.

Professor Geoffrey Tankard, the music adjudicator who added so much to the success of the recent Okanagan Valley Music Festival in this city, will return to Penticton on July 8 to give a lecture and a piano recital.

Sponsored by the South Okanagan Registered Music Teachers' Association, Professor Tankard will lecture on "piano technique and piano literature" in the local high school auditorium in the afternoon of July 8 and will perform at a piano recital in the evening of the same day.

The lecture and recital are open to all music teachers, pupils and the general public. Professor Tankard's ability as a lecturer and his reputation as a fine concert pianist are already well known here and both the sessions should be well worth attending.

Tickets are now on sale at Harris Music Shop and combination tickets for both the lecture and the recital can be obtained for two dollars for adults and $1.50 for students. Separate tickets for either the lecture or the recital cost one dollar for adults and 75 cents for students. These tickets can also be procured from any registered music teacher in the district.

Professor Tankard has been conducting Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music examinations at Vancouver and following (Continued on Page 5.)

City To Place Sewer By-Law

City Council indicated its willingness to place a money by-law for sewer purposes Monday when plans, drawn up by the city engineer for sewer district four, were approved and instructions to send the plans and specifications to the department of health for approval were given.

Cost of providing sewerage for the district bounded by Eckhardt avenue, the railway tracks, Railway street and Hastings avenue is estimated at about one quarter of a million dollars.

Only residents in the sewer area will be allowed to vote on the money by-law which will be drawn up as soon as the plans and specifications have been approved.

The plans as shown to council by Paul G. W. Walker Monday, provide for the use of a new disposal plant if the one now in use should become overloaded. Mr. Walker said that the present facilities are equipped to absorb more effluent but if the golf course district were developed as a residential area the sewerage system could be linked with a new disposal plant. Already the city has dedicated land in south Penticton for that purpose.

Land will be called in two sections. One for the unstable land in the vicinity of the disposal plant which will require specialized equipment, and another for the rest of the district.

Penticton KVA demand for the week-ending June 21 was 3553, according to the electrical superintendent's report.

Band Realizes Nearly $1,100 In Fund Drive

Penticton City Band now has $1,084.50 towards the total of $1,500 required for equipping the musicians with new uniforms.

Last night a concert, given here by the Summerland Band to assist the local group, realized $38.45 for a silver collection. The city has provided $250 and the remainder has been collected in a canvass conducted by the players.

The cash in hand is sufficient to provide new uniform jackets and caps and the drive will continue to provide the rest of the uniforms. Contributions may be sent to post office box 103 or to H. W. Monaghan at Monaghan's Florist Shop, Nainona avenue.

LEIR PROPERTY
Request from the Penticton Sawmills for permission to install sprinkler irrigation on lot 77 south of the schools on the east side of Main street, was referred to the irrigation commission by City Council, Monday.

Supervised Playgrounds Open For Children Here

School is "out," and vacation time is here once more. And where, amidst all the golden beauty of an Okanagan summer, is Junior? If he is anywhere between the ages of four and ten, perhaps he has found his way to one of those delightful corners of Penticton set aside as the special "Kingdom of Junior" — the playgrounds, where the children have nothing to do but have fun — safe guided, summer fun.

Penticton has every right to be proud of the playgrounds, now in the fourth year of operation. This was the first city in the interior of B.C. to provide supervised playgrounds for the children, where specially trained supervisors watch over the youngsters, help them to get the maximum of pleasure from the games and equipment provided for them; and direct their energies into constructive channels.

The playgrounds were sponsored in the first place by the P.T.A. The Penticton Parks Board contributes to the upkeep of the grounds and the salaries of the supervisors; the United Church, Women's Institute and the Canadian Legion Ladies' Auxiliary.

The opening date for both playgrounds, one off Wade avenue, and one in the Westview district, will be Wednesday and from now until the end of July the playgrounds will be open daily — Monday through Friday.

Miss Shirley Lewis and Miss Pat Clarke, of UBC and Normal School, will be there to keep a watchful eye on the children, lend them through many varied games, read to them under the shade of the trees during the hottest time of the day, teach them singing and dancing games and on rainy days play records to them and help them with their painting and crayoning inside the play-house.

So, with organized games to occupy him, Junior need not develop those habits of lawlessness and complete idleness which tend to crop up during the long vacation. And the smaller fry, just ready to start school in September, will learn to "mix in" with a large

Cuttings Made For New Trout Creek Highway

Straightening of the Trout Creek highway, now in progress, will not detract from the scenic beauties of the lakeside drive, but automobile travel between here and Summerland will be swifter and safer when the $430,000 reconstruction program is completed.

Many sharp corners will be eliminated by cutting through banks and by filling in a number of the lake bays.

At present ten trucks and two power shovels are being used to make cuttings for the new sections of road.

According to G. F. Roper, local representative for the Storms Contracting Company, one large power shovel is working at a point about three miles from Penticton. Sandy earth taken from the cutting is being dumped into the lake where a section of road will cross the reclaimed land.

A smaller shovel is engaged in clearing at a point about two miles from this city and earth from that excavation is being dumped into the lake near the Mount Chapaka Auto Court.

Excavations are only being made where the earth is sandy and the rocky portions of the highway will not be tackled until heavier equipment is brought in.

City Schools Close For Long Vacation

This city's more than 1,000 school children packed away books and pencils for another year yesterday afternoon, hopefully collected their report cards and prepared to enjoy themselves for ten weeks of glorious summer holidays.

The senior high students—those of them who were fortunate enough to be recommended—began their holidays two weeks ago, but the Penticton Junior High School student body marked the end of another school term with a brief, but impressive ceremony in the new auditorium yesterday afternoon, when students who were outstanding scholastically, and in the field of citizenship and athletics, received recognition and were presented with awards.

The program opened with a solemn procession of grade nine students who will be entering senior high school and the final phase of their public school education next September.

Principal H. D. Pritchard acted as chairman of the ceremonies and greetings from the local school board were conveyed by trustee Mrs. Jean Auty.

Mrs. Auty congratulated those students who had won promotion and reminded the large audience of pupils, parents and friends of the value of education in this modern world.

She advised the students to try to learn as much as they could, not only in school, but also in the outside world—through travel, current news and so on. "The next year will be much easier if you try to learn as you go along," she said.

HOME ECONOMICS AWARD
Following Mrs. Auty's address, Miss Muriel Young presented the Home Economics Cup to Marilyn Bent, who received the highest mark in practical sewing during the year.

The P-TA Citizenship Award, a new award this year, was presented to grade eight student Fern Mergerson by Mrs. George Gray, who represented the local Parent-Teacher Association at the honors day.

Honorable mention in this award went to John Weststuck.

Student awards to those who excelled in extra-curricular activities, in athletics and in scholastic achievement were presented by Bill Bobbitt, president of the Junior High Students' Council.

Headlights Spoil City Man's Bluff; Thieves Escape

Headlights of a passing car shining on Ken Roegle spoiled a nice piece of bluff which might have resulted in two thieves spending Tuesday night in the city jail.

Mr. Roegle was making his way home across the Grove Motors parking lot when he saw two men at work dismantling parts from a car.

Shining his flashlight on them, he called, "stay where you are, or I'll shoot."

Mr. Roegle was holding nothing more lethal than his flashlight but the bluff worked and the robbers made no attempt to move until the car headlights illuminated their captor and they saw he had no gun.

The thieves made off and fear lent speed to their flight and although Mr. Roegle gave chase he lost them at the corner of Front and Main streets where they separated.

Earlier in the evening Mr. Roegle saw the same two men carrying a car bumper in the vicinity of Grove Motors and he reported the occurrence to the police.

TOURISTS MUST PAY TO PARK

Information received from the tourist information service should be well worth the one or two cents placed in the parking meters outside that office, thinks Alderman W. D. Haddleton.

Alderman Haddleton expressed his opinion at the council meeting Monday, when it was decided that no free space should be allocated to visitors but that, as an experiment, signs would be erected on the meters asking residents to leave the two stalls outside the free tourist information bureau for use by visitors.

Alderman Wilson Hunt, chairman of the traffic committee, could offer only sympathy for the Board of Trade's request for free space.

"If we reserved space for visitors I don't see how it could be controlled. Who would use it, the local people or the visitors?" he asked.

Alderman Haddleton agreed. "The tourists come here with pockets full of money. They won't miss a penny or two. The information they receive should be worth that," he commented.

Council agreed to erect signs at the suggestion of Paul Walker, city engineer.

NEW FIREMAN
Application of Frank Trehearne for the position of full time fireman on the city brigade was approved by City Council Monday.

Oil Contamination At Skaha Lake Is Investigated By City Council

A letter has been dispatched to the CPR superintendent here by City Council suggesting that the railway company should clear the Skaha Lake beach of oil-soaked debris and also institute measures to prevent oil from the company yards from seeping into the Okanagan River.

This action was taken Monday on a motion by Alderman Frank C. Christian, who declared that the oil on the beaches constituted a health hazard for anyone taking domestic water from Skaha Lake; that its presence is jeopardizing the tourist industry, and that it is causing damage to boats and other property.

Steve Stogre, owner of the boat rental at Skaha Lake, appeared before council and claimed that the amount of oil on the beach is increasing. "It is polluting the beach," he said.

Alderman Christian informed beaches are in bad condition. "It's impossible to walk into the water without being covered with oil," Mr. Stogre added.

"The situation is more serious than people think," Alderman Christian said. "Some boats and other property will have to be repaired."

Tuesday the beach was inspected by health officer E. F. Hartigan, Mr. Walker, Harold Barritt, parks foreman, and J. B. Clarke, parks commissioner, in company with CPR officials, D. C. Hartley and F. Joplin, and the presence of oil below the surface of the sand was seen.

Canada's Farm Training Praised By U.S. Speaker

Canada's "vocational agricultural movement" has made greater strides in its first two years of existence than its American counterpart made in 20 years, Henry Robinson, director of vocational agriculture at Kalispell, Montana, told the B.C. convention of the Future Farmers of Canada at lunch in the Penticton high school cafeteria today.

More than 30 instructors and students from B.C. centres including the Okanagan and Fraser Valleys and from as far away as Creston and Dawson Creek attended the convention, yesterday and today.

Penticton students under the direction of Jim Campbell demonstrated their skills in fruit growing and cattle raising as well as bee and poultry farming.

Today, Mr. Robinson urged the young farmers to study hard and to treat farming as a profession which needed management and science.

"What Mr. Stogre says is correct," Alderman Christian affirmed. "The floods preferred to withhold comment pending further developments."

Doris Wells Wins Award At Dental Nurses' Convention

Miss Doris Wells, of Vancouver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Wells, Penticton, was co-winner of an award made at the recent Canadian and B.C. Dental Nurses' convention, in Vancouver.

Miss Wells and Miss Edna Leslie of Vancouver, participating in the contest, in which eight teams took part, received the Mrs. Wynne Saunders Clinic award for presenting the best clinic display on parent and child education in the care of teeth.

The display was judged on the originality of idea and technical perfection.

Lovely Garden Setting For Cook - Manery Nuptials

A summer garden at the home of the bride's parents in Cawston with its fresh green lawns and lilac hedge harmonized with a golden sunset and pale yellow frocks of the bride attendants to form a lovely background for the June nuptials of Kathleen Elizabeth Manery, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Manery, and Milton Hunsley Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cook, of Cawston.

Rev. Murray Cameron of the Keremeos United Church officiated at the 7:30 o'clock ceremony held on Wednesday evening of last week.

Given in marriage by her father the charming bride wore a gown of exquisite lace in white, fashioned in the "Colonial" period mode. A three-tiered hooped skirt, each tier edged with wide bands of pleated nylon net, was topped by a fitted bodice which featured tiny puffed sleeves and a Peter Pan collar also edged with pleated net to match the trim of the bouffant skirt.

Velvet flowers adorned the net cap from which mistled the bride's chapel length veil and complementing the beautiful ensemble were the two-strand pearl necklace worn as the bride's only jewellery and her shower bouquet of pink carnations and Shasta daisies.

Softly colored mauve ribbon was held by ten small girls and boys, relatives of the wedding principals, to form an aisle into the garden, down which the bride walked preceded by a trio of attendants.

The bride's cousin, Miss Diane Tickell, as maid of honor, and Miss Daphne Innis, her niece, who was bridesmaid, chose marquisette for their yellow frocks. The former wore a bolero jacket over her gown with its full gathered skirt and bodice featuring horizontal tucks.

The latter's frock was similarly styled but a small cape topped a shirred bodice. They both wore mistle gowns and flower trimmed net hair bandages with short veils. White lilies, columbine and mauve delphinium formed their matching colonial bouquets.

A crisp yellow organdie frock with a two-tier skirt, lace edged, and short puffed sleeves was worn by the charming little flower girl, Miss Geraldine Harker, the bride's niece. She wore a yellow ribbon bandeau and carried a bouquet similar to that of the senior attendants.

The groom's brother, Hayland Cook, was bestman, Ken Harker was usher and music was by Mrs. D. J. Innis.

Receiving the many guests at wedding reception held in the garden were the bride's and groom's mothers. The former was attractively attired in printed navy blue silk with mauve accessories and rose corsage, and the groom's mother wore grey printed silk, navy accessories and an antirrhinum corsage.

E. M. Crocker, who proposed the toast to the bride, has had the novel experience of giving toasts at the weddings of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Manery's four daughters.

Silver vases of roses ornamented the beautifully appointed lace covered bridal table and silver vases also held syringa bloom to decorate the smaller table on which the three-tier wedding cake was centered.

Mrs. R. Innis, sister of the bride, decorated the bridal cake. Presiding during the reception hour were the bride's sisters, Mrs. R. King, Kaleden, and Mrs. R. Innis, Keremeos.

The bride donned a grey tulle, white accessory and pink carnation corsage for a motor trip home to Victoria and other Island points.

Out-of-town-guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. Tickell, Miss Diane Tickell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bromley, Mr. and Mrs. F. Manery, Mr. and Mrs. C. Blacklock, Mr. and Mrs. E. M.

Joint Meeting By Peach Festival Association And W.A.

Plans and problems pertaining to the annual August event, the Penticton Peach Festival, were fully discussed at a joint meeting of the Peach Festival Association and Women's Auxiliary held Tuesday evening in the Inco Hotel.

An enthusiastic group of co-workers gave reports on the progress of the various concessions which will be featured attractions of the festival scheduled for August 14, 15 and 16.

Following a short summary of the association's plans which covered briefly proposed arrangements for the rodeo, agricultural show and other main attractions considerable time was given to discussion on the undertakings of the women's group.

Mrs. A. Earl Wells, president of the Women's Auxiliary, reported on accepting the invitation extended by Alderman and Mrs. Frank Christian to hold the Queen's Tea at their home on Friday afternoon, August 15. Mrs. Gladys Cook is general convener of this social highlight at which the W.A. will entertain and honor Queen Val-Verette VI and other dignitaries.

The Peach Festival activities will commence on Thursday evening, August 14, with the crowning ceremony to be held in the Gyo Park Band Shell. Mrs. W. I. Betts is in charge of the decorations of the Band Shell and Mrs. J. A. Maret is making all arrangements for the important crowning formalities.

Discussions centred on the queen's crown and color of her cape, and following a motion it was decided to leave these matters to be handled each year by the women's group.

A "Coke Party" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McKay will entertain visiting princesses and escorts prior to the Queen's Ball to be held on Thursday evening following the crowning ceremonies.

It was decided at the meeting to leave the decorative theme of the Queen's Ball entirely in the hands of the co-conveners, Mrs. Cecil Brett and Mrs. Frankie Palmer.

The Queen's Ball is being convened by Mrs. R. A. Patterson and plans are progressing in a satisfactory manner, she reported.

Fall Tea Plans By Sr. Women's Hospital Group

At the regular monthly meeting of the Senior Women's Hospital Auxiliary held on Tuesday of last week in the Red Cross Centre, with Mrs. Hugh P. Barr presiding, tentative plans were made for the annual fall "Chrysanthemum Tea" and floral display to be held October 11 in the Masonic Temple.

Reports at the meeting, the final before a summer recess, covered one by Mrs. J. A. Rodell in which she told of 105 articles being made by the auxiliary for hospital use and a report on the recent Arthritis and Rheumatism Society fund campaign which had received the assistance of several auxiliary canisters.

Working in the drive under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. Collett were Mrs. D. H. Tully, Mrs. E. S. Bearcroft, Mrs. E. E. Johnson, Mrs. J. A. Rodell and Mrs. R. G. Gregory. At the conclusion of the business session an interesting address was given by Miss Hazel Southward, physio-therapist with the Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Crocker and Miss S. Innis, all of Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. P. W. King and Mr. and Mrs. Ron King, Kaleden; Miss Daphne Innis, Keremeos; Mrs. G. Campbell, Vancouver, and Mrs. R. Neil, Quesnel.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hilliard and two sons, Brock and Gordie, of Port Alberni, arrived in Penticton on Tuesday to visit the former's father, W. B. Hilliard, Norton street, when they motored on to Revelstoke for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Grubbe, of Victoria, who spent the week-end in Penticton, were accompanied by Mrs. M. W. Forster, Government street, when they motored on to Revelstoke for a short stay.

A GIGANTIC TASK

Sound and fury of the elections somewhat obscured the fact that here in Penticton, and for that matter throughout Canada, a new generation of young Canadians was stepping from the sheltered classrooms into the hurly-burly world. And yet that happening was, perhaps, more important than the transitory effects of what the people of British Columbia did at the polls on June 12, or Ottawa's somewhat feeble protest against the splitting up of the Canadian Brigade in Korea.

It is upon those young people that rests our hope for the future. An older generation has made what seemingly is a sticky mess of its affairs. Internationally, nationally and provincially the ruling generation seems unable, or, at least, unwilling to face up to hard facts, let alone come to grips with them.

In truth the older generation seems bent on self-destruction. There is a paucity of leadership at almost every level and in almost every field that threatens, at the worst, to lead to total war and the possible end of our civilization. The people instead of uniting against this very real threat have turned inward. This is the age of grab, such as was predicted by Jack London in his remarkable book "The Iron Heel".

In British Columbia, at this writing, powerful unions are locked in battle with equally powerful employer combinations. They fight for material gain but only for the benefit of the few while the economy of the province and the country and the great masses of the people suffer.

Such is the world into which those 80 young Penticton graduates entered a few days ago. It is an insane world and upon their generation rests the task of restoring it to sanity, provided an older generation does not, by its bungling, sentence them to death on the battlefield, before they can set their hands to the task.

The world is crying out for leadership and it may well be that from among those clear-eyed youngsters who, a few days ago, graduated from high schools throughout the land, those leaders will arise.

We wish them well — so much depends upon them.

DOING A GOOD JOB

In a year when maintenance dollars are scarcer than usual it is highly gratifying to see the extent of the maintenance work which has been and is being done on the city's roads.

It is evident that City Engineer Paul G. W. Walker has planned and is carrying out an excellent program. Many main arteries of travel, such as Eckhardt avenue, have been transformed from pothole riddled, axle-breaking hazards into reasonably good roads. The potholes on the hill up to the hospital have been filled in. Power street down to the arena has been treated with a heavy coating of oil. Elsewhere throughout the city graders have been busy and it is safe to say that our main arteries of travel are in better shape today than they have been for some time.

Some residents living on hard-surfaced streets which are impervious to the grader, and which have deteriorated into something resembling a shell-torn nomad's land, may not be willing to concede that our roads are in good shape, but we insist that in view of the scarcity of dollars the city's works department is doing a job. Some thoroughfares are, unfortunately, beyond repair and they must perforce wait until there is more money in the municipal treasury. In the meantime the city engineer by his current program indicates that when money is available for road building and rebuilding, the taxpayers will get full value for their dollars. This is supported by the fact, as in the case of Power street and others, the engineer is laying base oil, rather than dust laying oil and thus preparing the streets so treated for surfacing. Such a procedure is a little more costly at the moment but it will prove cheaper in the long run.

All in all we think the taxpayers can feel reasonably content with the spending of their road dollars in the city. Few of the more heavily travelled routes have been overlooked and it is now possible to drive visitors around the city without having to apologize for the condition of the roads. A lot remains to be done, it is true. But under circumstances as they exist, we can all rest satisfied that as good a job as possible is going forward.

SUMMER HAZARD

School is out—and that means that in Penticton some 1,000 youngsters are on the loose. The 15-mile-an-hour speed limit in school zones no longer applies, but that only signifies that motorists must be more than ever on the alert.

For the next nine weeks youngsters will be darting out from almost every garden gate into the paths of vehicles. There is no way of curbing these exuberant youngsters. Even the most traffic-conscious among them occasionally forget to look before leaping when at their play.

It is the responsibility of the motorist to guard these youngsters from the hazards they themselves create. A too heavy foot on the gas—a moment eyeing the pretty girl walking on the sidewalk—lighting a cigarette—or such things as turning one's head to talk to some one in the back seat—can be the cause of accidents.

Take it easy Mr. Motorist, and stay alert behind that wheel.

LET'S BE PATIENT

Complaints of poor telephone service in Penticton, aired at a recent Board of Trade meeting, are certainly not without foundation, nevertheless we believe they were ill-timed, and lacked that quality of "patience" which is regarded as a virtue.

Newspapers for months have carried stories relating to the Okanagan Telephone Company's expansion and modernization program. It is well known that Penticton is to go on to the automatic system in September. Why then flog a dead horse by complaining of inadequate service, an inadequacy which could only be overcome by extending equipment which will be obsolete here three months from now?

Cause of the prolonged delays complained of is the increase in the number of subscribers and the hello girls have today to sit helplessly by, their boards plugged and signals flashing, until somebody gets off the phone.

Naturally the company isn't going to spend money on installing obsolete equipment when its plans call for a complete change-over in a matter of months.

Subscribers in the interval could, instead of complaining, help out by limiting their calls, particularly during business hours, or at least by keeping them as short as possible.

Our Town

AS IN FRANCE

How is it I am writing on Bikini bathing suits? I'm glad you asked that question. It is because Thomas Cook and Sons have sent me a copy of Air France Revue, a big, slippery magazine written entirely in French, but with a lot of good pictures.

To judge from this Revue, France is just teeming with two unbeatable tourist attractions (a) very old cathedrals and (b) fairly new girls in Bikini bathing suits. The cathedrals we can discuss another time or, better still, ignore. But almost nobody in their right mind would want to ignore (b).

I should explain for those of you who have been away, or sick, that the Bikini bathing suit is a purely French creation consisting of a brassiere or "bra" (short for Bravo!) and a kind of small, triangular diaper. There are several good reproductions of this casual costume in Air France Revue. For our purposes we shall study the examples given on Page 41.

Here we have a picture of two French ladies in the above-mentioned garments running toward the camera along a deserted beach. At least it looks deserted from our viewpoint. Heaven only knows the size of the mob being held back by gendarmes (French for "police") behind the camera.

New where were we? Oh, yes, Page 41. Well, both young ladies are tanned, Gallic types, laughing like crazy and running towards us. (Steady, George!) Under the picture we see the notation, "La joie uille a la beauté: éternelles élégances." Freely translated this means, "The joy united with the beauty: always look jimdandy."

As I study this picture I am reminded that these skimpy costumes have been denounced widely by gentlemen who worry like the devil about our morals (presumably theirs are okay) and by ladies, none of whom could ever possibly wear a Bikini bathing suit.

I realize that if I were to write a lashing attack against the costume all these old folks would write letters to the editor signed "Pro Bono Publico," saying I was a prince of fellows. People who like Bikini suits never write letters to the editor. Too busy, I guess.

Let me confess with you, I think the two French ladies look really quite wonderful and, were I under oath, I would gladly confess to the district attorney that I wouldn't mind running briskly alongside this "éternelles élégances." Could run for hours. Wouldn't mind at all!

Ah, but I hear a voice saying, isn't this the same charlatan who once bitterly criticized bathing beauty contests? It is, indeed, my dear friends (ones other amis). I am a man who loves to see cattle grazing on green fields and not on an abattoir ramp. I react to the daisy in the dell rather than the rose in the vase. I admire the bathing queen on the beach, never on the boards of a theatre.

In short, I like nature in its element, and that is Page 41 all over.

The Bikini bathing suit is obviously the extreme point to which the bathing suit may be taken. In the memorable words of the song, "Kansas City," "they've gone about as far as they can go." The next step is to disrobe completely. This I oppose.

Judged from a purely aesthetic standpoint the human body is a flop. Women have known this fact ever since Eve, whose fig leaf was obviously not modest at all, but simply added interest.

Nudists themselves (an unbelievably reactionary group) know this. They, too, oppose the Bikini suit and for precisely the same reason as the fuddy-duddy moralists oppose it. They know that the more a lady takes off the less interesting she is.

NEWS FROM Victoria

By J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA—Social Crediters, in the election campaign, did a lot of boasting about Alberta's $1 a day hospital insurance plan. Premier Manning himself, speaking before nearly 6,000 people in Vancouver Forum, said, "It's a wonderful plan and that everybody, absolutely everybody, is absolutely satisfied." And the huge audience applauded as if to say the B.C. hospital insurance plan is terrible compared with Alberta's.

A few days after the election came a Canadian Press dispatch from Calgary to say that "because costs of operating the provincial government's hospital plan are higher than expected, Bowness, Alta., town council will consider next month whether or not to withdraw from it."

If we have four parties in the Legislature next session, at least there will be room for them all in the Legislative Buildings. For years MLAs were crowded together, huddled in cubbyholes under gurgling plumbing, in dark rooms not much more than cupboards. A year ago the new Douglas Building was opened, giving much more room in the main Legislative Buildings for MLAs, who like comfort and space while they look after the people's business. Now, there's room for everybody, for every odd piece of that strange legislative mulligan the people evidently cooked up on June 12.

One wonders why there was such a gang-up, on first count anyway, against Liberals and Conservatives. Looking back—the Coalition gave good government. The living standard of B.C. was never higher. Why was it the people turned against Liberals and Conservatives?

It seems to this reviewer it was because the two old-line parties in recent years bickered, and fought, and wiggled for political advantage, that, pretending they were at one before the public, they really hated each other, politically speaking, and would play ducks and drakes with the people's business in order to pummel each other on election day. Well, as it turned out, on first count, the public pummeled the two of them.

It's still this reviewer's opinion the Liberals will come out with more seats than any other group. If this be so, the Liberals should form a government, go to the Legislature, take a chance. If the legislation such a minority government brings in is good, the opposition groups will support it. If not, the government will be defeated on the floor of the House, and there will be another election. That's the way it should be. There's no reason a government should have to have a steam-roller majority behind it. Let a government be courageous, take a chance. There have been too many steam-roller majorities in the past. Such majorities do not necessarily lead to good government. They mean that much of the governing is done behind the locked doors of the caucus room, instead of in the open legislative chamber, where it should be done.

Looking back—perhaps Premier Johnson made his biggest political blunder when, after ousting Mr. Anscomb from his cabinet, he called an immediate election. The public didn't want an election. There should not have been an election for another year anyway. The Premier should have brought in important legislation last session, gone through another session next spring, then called his election. The public doesn't like the idea of a snap election being called by a government in power, just because the government wants to be returned and thinks that moment the best. The public on June 12 very definitely showed it doesn't like the idea.

Eastern Canada, judging by the newspapers, evidently thinks we're politically disintegrating out here. There's political confusion, all right, but in the capital the business of the people is running smoothly along as if nothing had happened. It makes one think that perhaps we have too many politicians constantly upsetting the applecart. However, that's democracy and it's better than some other systems, bungling as it is at times.

But the love for him who lies beneath
Will never fade away."

through their lookout and other mation in an area extending from

PREVENTION PROJECTS

When asked what might be done in a concrete way to prevent hail clouds from projecting their damaging missiles into the orchards and other crop areas, Mr. Douglas offered two possible prevention methods.

One involved the use of a powerful airplane that would penetrate the hail cloud and discharge chemicals which would dissolve the hail into rain. This had not been established, but was a possibility. It was also expensive and would require a 24-hour crew at readiness.

The other method was a ground generator, including a propane or other gas container and a chemical container, including silver iodide.
This ground generator service would be simple and not costly.
The generator would cost probably around $25 and the operation would cost about $4 an hour. It would be a handy combination and there could be many of these against one airplane.

But again, there had been no practical tests and the efficiency of the device had to be tested.
Mr. Douglas said that if anyone wanted to try out this ground device, he would be glad to co-operate.

"We have to investigate the clouds and particularly what falls out of them," Mr. Douglas said.
"I am here to find out all I can regarding the problem, see if anything can be done now and whenever, possibly, anything can be done later. Where the borderline is, we do not know. That's what we want to find out. We are looking for the breeding grounds. Control involves dumping moisture out of the cloud in the form of rain, not hail, before the cloud reaches the orchard area."

The BCPCA will seek the co-operation of its members in securing observations. The forms will be distributed to the association's locals and it is expected that there will be a useful response. One reason for this optimism is that many growers make weather observations of their own, as is the habit of the three executive members and the two hail insurance company officers who attended the conference with Mr. Douglas.

Mr. Douglas was assigned to visit the Okanagan under authority of Hon. Lionel Chevrier, minister of transport, Ottawa, to whom the BCPCA had applied for research into hail control. The matter was referred to a special committee, set up by the Department of Transport, under which the meteorological division operates. The National Research Council and other government departments were represented on this committee which considered the subject with the result that it was agreed that an investigation should be made into hail storm control. Mr. Douglas' mission followed.

Filled-in observation forms will be forwarded to him. If sufficient information, on which conditions can be based, is assembled early,
Mr. Douglas may pay another visit to the Okanagan during the hail season.

Can Use Land Until Road Is Developed

Permission to occupy a strip of land 45 feet wide at the eastern boundary of his property on Roy avenue, until such time as the strip may be required for road improvement purposes, was granted to H.
Hartley by City Council Monday.

According to the town planning commission the land will be required in order to develop Fairford Drive at some future date.

Acting Mayor E. A. Titchmarsh declared that it would probably be about 20 or 30 years before that road is developed and he suggested that Mr. Hartley should be allowed to use land until such time as improvements were made.

fowl can bring the filaments of their feathers together so tightly that water is unable to penetrate them.

the tower, 740 feet above the water.

structed that there be no recommendation for grades seven to 10

He stated that while the majority of the students had won promotion to the next grade, the students on the honor list were the ones in each grade whose scholastic achievement deserved special recognition.

will meet Wednesday at noon.

hotel facilities have been improved,
new auto courts have been erected, and some courts have increased the number of units.

However, no chances are being taken and Mrs. Hettie Kingsley, of the tourist information service,
says that a reserve of private homes is being held "just in case".

The gymkhana will start at 10 a.m. with saddle classes with the jumping and other competitions starting at 1 p.m.

Special feature of the program will be the showing of a Tennessee walking horse owned by L. R. Tipton, of Allen Grove.
This breed of horse was introduced to the Okanagan only last year.

The 30 head expected to take part in the show will include entries from Vernon, Kelowna and Olive as well as locally owned stock.

Judges are Dr. Joan Tallyour, of Kelowna and W. T. Cameron of Vernon. Ringmaster will be Dr. W.
A. Hillard of Vancouver and John V. Acland of Kelowna will act as commentator.

At King's Park, Kamloops Oko-nots, Penticton Athletics, Oliver Elks and Summerland Macs will fight for $500 in cash prizes. First round contenders in the afternoon doubleheader will be chosen by draw and the winners of the first two games will compete in the final in the evening.

Camp Sorec Will Open At Trout Creek Wednesday

Camp Sorec, the interdenominational summer camp, sponsored by the South Okanagan Religious Education Council, will open July 2
under the leadership of the Rev.
H. R. Whitmore of Summerland.

Throughout July the camp will be directed by leaders of the United Church, Baptist Church and others will direct the camps in August.

First camp will be held from July 2 to July 8 and will be for boys aged 8, 9 and 10. From July 8 to 15 the camp will open to boys between the ages of 11 and 13 and will be under the supervision of the Rev. Ernest Rands of Penticton.

The last two weeks in July will be reserved for girls. A Vancouver teacher will supervise the camp for girls from 12 to 17 from July 16 to 25. The last week in July, Mrs.
Phyllis Stoble of the Penticton United Church will be director for the girls aged 8 to 11.

Cost of the camp is one dollar a day for each child. Information can be obtained from Mr. Rands at telephone 31 or Mrs. Stoble at 684.

The tremendous increase in the world's population in recent years is not the result of a rising birth rate, but of a falling death rate.

Naval Veteran Returns Home After Year's Service In Korean Campaign

Millionaires' homes perched on the hillside at Hong Kong and the appalling squalor of the Oriental city's slum row are vivid impressions retained by Able Seaman Don Gardiner of Penticton, who returned home last week-end after 362 days aboard the tribal class destroyer the "HMCS Cayuga" which recently returned from the Korean theatre of war.

Prior to enlisting in the senior service Don spent four years with the Penticton Sea Cadet group.

Like many other sailors Don volunteered for the Korean campaign.
After exercises with the American Fleet when en route to the Orient the Cayuga started a long round of patrols and aircraft carrier escort duties.

Although life gets dull on board ship at times it isn't without its excitement, says Don.

Occasionally the destroyer was engaged in inshore bombardments.
"Sometimes we were shelling pill box fortresses, sometimes roads north of the 38th parallel, sometimes we were out after radio stations."

The enemy has some naval forces out there, but they are seldom seen.
The Cayuga's crew has seen some air warfare, but although enemy aircraft have been sighted none have attacked the ship.

Only leave of any decent length for the crew was a four day stay in Hong Kong. Here Don met a Chinese who had lived in Penticton for 15 years before returning to his native Orient. "He was a great friend of a Chinese resident in Pen-ticton. We had a long talk about the people we both knew," Don relates.

The sailor had great admiration for the homes of the rich Chinese but of the slum row he said: "There's nothing like it in Canada. When we docked men came aboard and took away the garbage, then went through the district selling it."

Shorter leaves in Japan proved interesting. The Penticton man was greatly impressed by the excellent quality of the Japanese restaurants. "The food was very good and most of the places of any size had orchestras," he said.

With his mates Don visited Tokyo
— a "beautiful city" — where the communists riots were in progress.
The disturbances, however, proved to be less exciting than the sailors had been led to believe.

Hiroshima, once the target of the second atom bomb to be dropped during world war two, is now almost completely rebuilt.

Only evidence of the devastation is an acre of land which marks the spot where the bomb fell.

On this land is a graveyard and a wrecked church.

According to Don, the morale of the naval personnel is good. "The married men get fed up sometimes but the younger single men don't mind too much," he said.

Don has two brothers in the cadet corps here, Ernie, 15, and Bob, a year younger, but Don won't talk them into a life afloat. "I won't talk them into going into the navy and I won't talk them out of it.
They'll have to make up their own minds," he said.

First Estimate Of
B.C.'s Fruit Crop
Shows Big Increase

Provincial agriculture department's first fruit crop estimate is out and it predicts a larger apple crop than last year by one-third.

A total of 6,798,035 boxes is estimated for the province this year compared with 5,100,373 for 1951.
Gain is 1,697,662.

A record apricot crop also is foreseen with an increase of 632 percent over last year's Okanagan output. Cherry increase in the Okanagan is put at 113.49 percent for a total of 220,440 crates.

Strawberry harvesting, in full swing now, is expected to result in a bumper crop wherever grown in the province.

The general outlook for all fruit is more on the trees than last year, even with peaches estimated to show a gain of 2.3 percent.

Residents Complain About Condition Of House At Skaha Lake

Complaints about the dilapidated condition of a residence near Skaha Lake prompted City Council to instruct the building inspector to inspect the premises and to bring in a report on the condition of the property.

Property in question, council learned Monday, has been vacant for four or five years. The house stands on public land which was leased to the owner of the building on a year to year basis.

There are 40 miles of highway paths in Chicago.

Here's a pretty-as-a-picture dessert for delicious summer eating! It's a feathery sponge cake ring filled with juicy strawberries, and gaily decorated with whipped cream.

STRAWBERRY SPONGE CAKE
On the top, plus 2 tsp. sifted fine cake flour, 3 egg yolks (at room temperature), 1 cup sifted sugar, 1 1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind, 1 1/2 tsp. lemon juice, 2 tsp. water, 5 egg whites (at room temperature), 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar, once measure, and sift four times. Beat egg yolks in small bowl, adding 1/4 cup sugar gradually, beating constantly with rotary egg beater. Combine lemon rind, lemon juice, and water and add to egg mixture gradually, beating constantly until very thick and light. Add flour all at once and fold in until just blended.

Beat egg whites and salt with flat whisk or rotary egg beater until foamy. Then add cream of tartar and beat until stiff enough to hold up in peaks, but not dry. Add remaining 1/4 cup sugar, about 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well with whisk or beater. Fold in egg yolk mixture. Turn into ungreased round 9-inch tube pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.), 30 minutes, or until done. Remove from oven and invert pan 1 hour, or until cold.

To serve, fill centre with slightly sweetened cold strawberries. Cut cake in wedges and serve with berries and whipped cream.

Elia - Pellicano Marriage Solemnized At St. Ann's

Exquisite chandily lace over net and white satin fashioned the beautiful wedding gown worn by Miss Agata Pellicano when she and Nick Elia exchanged vows at St. Ann's Catholic Church on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Rev. Father Patrick A. Bergh officiated at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. John Pellicano's eldest daughter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Elia, of Vancouver.

Large baskets of white peonies and red and white roses, banking the church altar and High Mass sung by the church choir, accompanied by Miss Sheila Hanlon at the organ, formed the setting for the June rites.

The bride, given in marriage by her father and attended by her two sisters, was lovely in her gown designed with full gathered skirt, which swept to train length, fitted bodice inset with a net yoke and long sleeves tapering to lily-point.

Her chapel length veil of net, edged with white lace, was held by a crescent-shaped cap of satin trimmed with pearls and her shower bouquet was of red and white roses.

Little Del Pellicano from Portland, Oregon, nephew of the bride, was train-bearer.

Miss Anne Pellicano, as maid of honor, wore a gown of marquisette in flower-pink, a small hat and elbow-length gloves entone. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Accenting the pale tones of the attendants' attire was the softly shaded green of Miss Marie Pellicano's bridesmaid's frock fashioned with full net skirt topped by bodice and small cape of lace. She wore a picture hat, elbow-length gloves entone, and carried pink and white carnations.

The petite flower girls, Catherine Ann Delcher and Angelina Chazorea, wore white organza frocks over taffeta with wide blue sashes and matching bonnets tied on the side with blue bows. They carried baskets of roses and carnations.

During the signing of the register Miss Pat Hanlon sang "Ave Maria."

Angelo Patelli of Vancouver was bestman and ushering were three brothers of the bride, Joseph Pellicano, Portland, Oregon; John Pellicano and Tony Pellicano, Penticton.

At the reception held in the Hotel Prince Charles Glenagary Room the bride's toast was proposed by Walter Wright. The attendants' toast was given by Mr. Patelli, the bestman.

Assisting in receiving the many wedding guests were the mothers of the wedding principals, Mrs. Pellicano was attractively attired in a grey and white print silk afternoon dress, grey accessories and red rose corsage and the groom's mother wore a frock of pink crepe with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of deep pink roses.

Low bowls of pastel-colored flowers ornamented the bridal table, covered with a lace outwork cloth made by Miss Melkie Pellicano, the bride's cousin. Centring the beautifully appointed table was a three-tier wedding cake.

A steel gray ensemble with pink accessories and Tullisian rose corsage was donned by the bride for travelling on a honeymoon to be spent in Seattle, Portland and other United States points. The young couple will reside in Vancouver on their return.

The bride is a former member of the Bank of Montreal staff and the groom, a graduate in mechanical engineering from the University of British Columbia.

Out-of-town-guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pellicano, Del and Julie, Portland, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. D. Elia, Mr. and Mrs. S. Elia and family; Mr. and Mrs. P. Patelli, A. Patelli, Mr. and Mrs. P. Valente and Gloria and Mr. and Mrs. Cuthill, all of Vancouver.

Miss Ellen Hughes of Vancouver was a week-end visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Longbottom of New Westminster were week-end visitors with Mrs. P. Littlejohn.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Doherty arrived home on Monday after spending a few days visiting in Rice, Washington, with the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lickfold.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Feeney have returned home from a week's visit in Vancouver and on the Island.

Miss Irene Finch left on Sunday for a holiday visit in New Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Griffin and Mrs. James Griffin, Sr., motored to Vernon on Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin, Jr.

Comfort And Charm Are Epitomized In Bench Resident's Dream Home

(By VANCE HULL)

One of the finest homes in the Penticton area has just been completed for M. C. Rippin on the Upper Bench Road and because of its many interesting features will be open for public inspection on Saturday and Sunday, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Eight years ago Mr. Rippin came to Penticton dreaming of the house he would like to build on the benches. Monday, his dream realized, he and his family will move into their new home — a home which is the ultimate in design and comfort.

MANY FINE FEATURES
Embodying all the finest features of Western Canadian architecture which recently was acknowledged best in Canada—this three bedroom home emphasizes the theme "Living with outdoors—indoors". The spacious window areas and miracle-like heating are a delight to anyone who has lived, or rather, existed, in the old-fashioned era of small windows, dark, cramped rooms, and dirty, labor-consuming heating units.

Insulated from ground moisture and low temperatures with vapour barrier paper, eight inches of crushed rock (to provide an air cell insulation under the concrete slab base), and triple insulation in the walls and ceilings, the owner is confident that the cost of heating will be very little, and, he believes, comparable to the cost of oil. The heating itself, of a type never before used in Penticton, consists of a low voltage "heatsum" cable imbedded in the concrete floor, and is controlled by individual thermostats in each room. This method, not only does away with a large, expensive basement and furnace, but also allows the temperature of each room to be set and maintained for any period of time without attention.

Stepping through the front door, the first breath-taking impression is of space—planned space. The living room, dining area and summer living room, while appearing to merge into one expanse, are so designed to retain their functional privacy when required. Because of this open design, and despite the large floor area, 1800 square feet, the house is simple to furnish and, of particular importance to housewives, easy to clean.

The most exacting homemaker would have a hard task to find fault with the closet and cupboard space, an example of which, is the large coat closet and linen cupboard off the entrance hall.

A short hallway connects the den, or third bedroom, panelled in knotty pine plywood, the master bedroom and second bedroom, finished in etchwood and striated plywoods, and with rubber tile in a matching color on the floor.

This wing of the house, the sleeping wing, is served by a full bathroom, furnished with the latest models of colored plumbing fixtures which include a built-in sink and powder bar. This specially designed dressing table, with its triple medicine cabinet, and three way mirrors illuminated by adjustable spotlights, will certainly become the exclusive property of the lady of the house, leaving the menfolk the use of the conveniently located washroom next to the kitchen.

The living room is noteworthy for its many luxurious appointments and built-in features; the deep pile wall-to-wall carpeting, the built-in bookcases, china cabinets and storage drawers, the fine mahogany veneer plywood finish and the excellent joinery on the flush casement doors. The doors themselves, are panelled in keeping with the rooms they separate.

Outstanding features of the living room are the ceiling-high local stonework of the massive fireplace, the handy storage locker for wood, and the accurately placed lighting outlets. At the rear of the living room, and separated by an expanse of glass rather than the conventional wooden partition, is the summer living room. This room, finished in knotty pine, is walled on three sides by glass. Two walls give an uninterrupted view of the large orchard in which the home is situated, another allows light to enter the living room from this side, and the fourth is panelled in knotty pine.

The amount of counter and cupboard space designed into the kitchen is amazing and has been planned to eliminate unnecessary steps for the busy housewife.

Adjoining the modern kitchen on either side of a short hallway to the garage is the two piece washroom which also contains the electric hot water storage tank; a double insulated fruit storage room, the furnace room—which in this instance consists of a wall covered with electric switches and circuit breakers, and will eventually provide space for a garbage burner.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Editor,
Penticton Herald.

LIKES PENTICTON

My first visit to Penticton in 32 years and these are some of the things I like about my all too brief visit: the friendliness and courtesy of the merchants and their staffs; the band concert at Gyro Park, a splendid band, even if they are in need of pants to complete the new uniforms, as the M.C. informed us; the friendly greeting by name from a Vets Taxi driver who turned out to be an old buddy from the air base at Jericho, 1939-40; the cheerful optimism of the citizens who ignored the grey June skies and like living here; my visit to the Hospital here in hoping, the new one, will soon be ready to accommodate the new crop of Peaches and I do mean Peaches, those lovely two-legged ones that are growing in on you; the hospitality of your good neighbors who made me welcome and invited a stranger in to tea.

Aside from your lakes and scenery, fine buildings, and other assets that go to make this a fine and growing city, its greatest asset is the fact that its people are, first to go to any of the fine churches and choose any denomination to worship.

YOUNGSTERS, "THANK YOU"

On behalf of the Junior Forest Wardens, I would like to express sincere thanks to the "Penticton Fish and Game Club" who provided free transportation to Chute Lake, for a wonderful week-end of fishing and camping.

Special thanks to Emile Buttel, who took time off from his work to help us over the week-end, also for his hard work over the past months in our Junior Forest Warden Club.

Mary Pratten Dance Revue Provides Fitting Climax To Successful Year

Climaxing a highly successful year of operation, the fourth annual revue of the Mary Pratten School of Dancing held in the high school auditorium on Friday night was enjoyed by an enthusiastic audience of well over 500 people.

From the opening number of the program—a pleasing performance by beginners Doreen Tannant, Judy Watson, Elaine Allington, Tamara and Barbara Wall, Sharon Esson, Susan Ewart and Leslie Finnerty—to the final presentation—a fantasy entitled "In a Garden Rare," the revue was a delightful presentation by talented and well-trained performers.

The first part of the program consisted of a wide variety of colorful Scottish and other national dances and the graceful "Ballet ou Pointes" performed by Sally Jackson, Wilma Unwin, Marcia Rowland, Ann Farnley, Beverly Bond and Kathleen Moore.

Accompanied solo performances were given by Lipda Leslie, "Shepherd Boy," Sally Jackson, "Pan-enka," Wilma Unwin, "La Auquantaine," Lorraine Drossos, "Spanish Dance," and Evonne Netherton, "Spanish Dance."

Lively national dances which drew enthusiastic applause were a Russian Peasant Dance performed by Bernice Anderson, Norma Hugo, and Evelyn Lyons and a Hungarian Dance by Wendy Grove, Jeannine Chapman, Joan Webb, Patsy Armstrong and Jo-Ann Hill. A delightful Dutch dance was presented by Peggy Lynne McPherson, Teri Emanuele, Mildred Johnson, Jane White, Ann Jones, Virginia Powell and Elizabeth and Jean Macdonald.

A spirited "Tarantelle" was performed by Irene Skelton, Linda Leslie, Brenda Parker, Janice Walton, Donna Lindberg, Janice Walker, Diane Allington, Ardelle Auty, Frances Asman, Karen Sinclair and Sharon Southworth.

SCOTTISH DANCES
Among the Scottish presentations was "Over the Water to Charlie" by Beverly Bond, Kathleen Moore, Marcia Rowland and Ann Farnley and the intricate Sword Dance by Linda Leslie, Frances Asman, Diane Allington, Irene Skelton, Janice Walker, Ardelle Auty, Brenda Parker and Hallie Smith.

A delightful number entitled "Pussy Cats," danced by Patty Syers, Ardath Burns, Jean Pearson, Doris Hart, Kerry O'Brien, Dorothy Daffoe and Lynda Walker, won warm applause as did the popular Seann Triubhas, performed by Wendy Grove, Patsy Armstrong, Jeannine Chapman, Joan Webb, Jo-Ann Hill and Donna-Day Washington.

The most familiar Scottish dance of them all, the Highland Fling, was beautifully danced by Peggy Lynne MacPherson, Teri Emanuele, Mildred Johnson, Jane White, Norma Hugo, Evelyn Lyons, Bernice Anderson, Donna Lindberg, Janice Walton, Karen Sinclair, Lorna Schwenk and Jill Ewart.

The second part of the program, the delightful fantasy, "In a Garden Rare," was created and written by Miss Pratten herself, and, with its large cast of accomplished performers, provided a fitting finale to the revue.

Accompanist during the performance was Mrs. Ida Swift, while Robert Roger accompanied the Scottish dancers on the pipes. Mrs. Jean Campbell was the vocalist in the fantasy production.

Following the performance, presentations were made to Miss Pratten, business manager F. Pratten and the two accompanists by the dance pupils.

Certificates won by a large number of the dancers in their Royal Academy of Dancing examinations throughout the year were presented by Miss Pratten.

John Hart Highway
Opening Ceremonies
Planned For July 1

The John Hart Highway connecting B.C. with the Peace River country and the Alaska Highway will be officially opened on July 1. The new highway will make true the Okanagan-Cariboo Trail Association's boast that it is "the shortest route to Alaska."

The opening ceremonies will be handled by the Prince George and Dawson Creek boards of trade working in conjunction with the Trail association. It is expected that representatives of most communities in the Pacific Northwest will be present while those cities along Highway 97 from Weed, Cal., northward have already made plans to have representatives present.

The plans include leaving Prince George on the morning of July 1 and travelling the new highway 100 miles to the Parnip River where a temporary bridge has made the opening at this time possible.

A short ceremony will take place at that point and it is expected that Hon. John Hart, former B.C. premier for whom the highway is named, will cut the ribbon at the bridge to open the highway to four-lane traffic.

The party will then proceed north 150 miles to Dawson Creek where it will remain for the night. The following day it will proceed up the Alaska Highway a few miles then return to Dawson Creek.

At the dinner to be given by the Prince George Board of Trade on the evening of June 30, Mrs. Eva Anderson of Chelan, Wash., will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Anderson is a member of the Washington State Legislature and has long been a proponent of this route. She is an accomplished speaker and was a member of the Okanagan-Cariboo Trail Association tour to the Parnip River last September.

HER BOW TWISTED out of line and a gaping, jagged hole under her port anchor slot, the luxury liner Scythia lies at her Quebec pier where she returned with 800 passengers after colliding with the Wabana, a 7,200-ton collier, in the fog-bound Gulf of St. Lawrence. The tug at lower right brought a diver who inspected damage below the water line while the hole was sealed up with a welded plate.

Kamloops Hockey Club And Arena
Commissioners Come To Terms

Prof. Tankard

KAMLOOPS — Continuation of Senior A hockey in Kamloops, and participation of Kamloops Elks in the Okanagan Senior Amateur Hockey League next winter, were assured last week when Kamloops Hockey Club and the Memorial Arena Commission agreed on the terms of a rental-contract for the 1952-53 season.

The contract is the same as last year's, with two exceptions. The Hockey Club will pay $240 for the use of Memorial Arena for league or OSAHL playoff-games. It will pay the annual $2000 fee for the Arena hockey-concessions on a per-game basis. The Hockey Club also will be responsible for ticket-sales, publicity, ushers, etc. These clauses are the same as last year's agreement. The two exceptions are: 1. If the Hockey Club has a financial deficit at the conclusion of the OSAHL playoffs, it will get a 50-50 split of the Arena's net receipts from BOAHA and CAHA playoffs in which the Elks participate; and 2. If the Hockey Club has a surplus at the season's end, the first $1000 will go to the arena commission, and the remainder, if any, will be divided down the middle.

OFFICERS RETURN
The new contract was accepted unanimously when presented to the Hockey Club members by E. H. (Ted) Martin, BOAHA representative here, who had been acting as custodian of the club since its officers resigned at fortnight ago. He caused the terms of the 1952-53 Arena-rental contract were "not acceptable." When presenting the rewritten contract Mr. Martin spoke highly of the efforts made by Mayor J. E. Fitzwater and other members of City Council to bridge the gap.

Immediately upon the contract being accepted by the Hockey Club members, the officers were invited by Mr. Martin to resume their posts. All immediately accepted, and from then on President W. A. Keith McAllister was chairman. The other officers are Dr. G. J. Cameron, first vice-president; M. Cranston, second vice-president; Kermit R. Macdonald, secretary; Jack L. Brechin, treasurer; Dr. M. H. Ottem, J. A. Beaton, Fred T. Parker, Carl Cathcart, Neil K. Macdonald, directors.

Arrangements also were made last week for the club to participate in the meeting now in progress regarding the formation of the 1952-53 edition of the OSAHL.

DELEGATES NAMED
M. Cranston and Cy. Young were named to the league's schedule committee, which met at Vernon Wednesday night to fashion a home game schedule to start in mid-October and end in mid-February, with participation confined to OSAHL clubs: Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, and Penticton. At a meeting in Kelowna June 8, at which Kamloops was not represented, the league discarded the practice of exchanging games with clubs in Western International and Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Leagues.

Dr. Cameron and Mr. Cranston were appointed as the Kamloops club's members on the eight-man OSAHL Executive Committee, which is scheduled to meet June 28 to finalize arrangements for next winter's hockey wars.

RECEIVES THEOLOGY DEGREE
Don Donecky of Penticton recently received his Bachelor of Theology degree at the 38th graduation exercise of the Seventh-day Adventist Canadian Union College, Lacombe, Alberta.

his appearance here will go to Banff where he will give the season's opening recital at the Advanced School of Fine Arts which is conducted each summer at that resort.

An internationally known concert pianist and adjudicator, Professor Tankard was born at Bradford, England, and received his diploma at the Royal College of Music when he was only 15. After studying under noted teachers Lamond, Emil Sauer, Moisswiler and Dr. Egon Petri, he taught for some years in London, Manchester and Bradford.

During the war years he performed with Albert Sammons before packed halls in over 300 recitals. He made his first appearance with the London Symphony Orchestra in Queen's Hall in 1939, and with the London Philharmonic Orchestra in 1940.

Professor Tankard is now an examiner of the Royal College of Music and the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music and has built up a wide reputation as an excellent lecturer and adjudicator, as the thousands of competitors and spectators who heard him at the festival here will testify.

President of the South Okanagan Registered Music Teachers' Association which is sponsoring his appearance at the auditorium here is Harold Ball, of Oliver. Mrs. Monica Craig Fisher, of Penticton, is vice-president, Alec Leander, secretary, and Mrs. Gordon Fleet, treasurer.

Hello There!

Ever talk to a bachelor about life insurance? Believe me, I have, and they're often pretty difficult to convince. "Life insurance," a bachelor friend of mine scoffed the other day. "Now why should I bother about life insurance? I have no responsibilities and I'd rather spend my money on other things." I told him, of course, that there were a great many urgent reasons why a bachelor should buy life insurance. No matter how strongly a man may feel against the idea of marriage at the moment, the chances are overwhelming that he'll fall for its lure sometime or other. And once married, the little lady must be protected. But by that time our ex-bachelor will be older, his expenses heavier and his bankroll slimmer. On top of that, his premiums are going to be that much higher with each day's delay. Why, even if he should remain a bachelor, his insurance will provide foolproof protection for a rainy day. And, married or single, what a blessing a paid-up policy can be when he draws his salary for the last time! Our wonderfully flexible retirement plans can add untold comforts to those wonderful years of ease which will be his.

My bachelor friend was soon convinced. He doesn't laugh at the thought of life insurance any more.

Day Operations

Penticton ham radio operators who took part in the American Radio Relay League's international field day last week-end contacted 248 different stations in 24 hours of operation.

Last year the local group was placed second in its class in Canada with 138 contacts.

The station transmitted messages to stations as far away as Guam, Hawaii, Alaska and the southern states.

Object of the field day was to simulate operation of radios under disaster conditions. Sets were powered by gasoline driven generators and the station was set up in the hills near the domestic water intake dam.

Results of the operation will not be known until all log books have

Penticton Council Of United Commercial Travelers Host
To Many Visiting Dignitaries

A miniature unofficial "convention" of United Commercial Travelers took place in Penticton during the past week-end, when representative members of Spokane and Vancouver councils of the order, were entertained by Okanagan Council No. 738, Penticton. In addition, there were individual members from Tacoma, Victoria, Salmon Arm, and Winnipeg in attendance.

The gathering opened on Saturday night, with an informal dinner for some of the guests, held on S.S. Sicomous. Shortly after eight o'clock the UCT members gathered at the Alexander Room in the Canadian Legion, where the Vancouver group put on a degree for ten new members, seven of whom were from the Penticton council.

Meanwhile, the ladies of the Penticton Auxiliary to the UCT entertained the visiting ladies from Spokane and Vancouver. Subsequently, both groups again converged on the Sicomous, where an informal dance was held. Little Miss Ardelia Auty entertained the guests with specialty dances during the evening.

Originally, it was planned to hold a beach party on Sunday morning, but inclement weather preventing, this was substituted by a series of informal house-gatherings, staged by leaders of the local council.

Spearheading the coast contingent was Matt Sloper, past grand councillor, and accompanying him were R. W. Murdoch, PGC of Victoria; Fred E. Bettle, PC, Tacoma; G. W. Lincker, PGC, C. P. Cousins, Ted Morris, SC, Ben Hankin, Fred Schofield, H. J. Morris, PC, R. V. Deacon, PGC, grand secretary, N. Jacoby, PC, H. S. Williamson, grand secretary, John M. Anderson, John Ross, Jim Colbourne, W. Pennell, Chris Cahoon, C. R. Kirby, C. D. Thorne, PC, and Mrs. E. B. McMaster, of Vancouver; while from Spokane the group included: Henry Eylich, grand executive; Larry Conway, Guy Parker, Frank Winslow, Lynn Roadrick, Lloyd Colburn, SC, Fred W. Mann, Tom W. Sharp, PGC, Conrad Schneider, PC; others were Lt.-Col. Syd Thompson, Salmon Arm, and Jack Turner, Winnipeg.

The festivities were somewhat dimmed by the news of the sudden death, in New York of A. R. Prior, grand junior councillor, of Vancouver. During the business session a minute of silence was observed in tribute to his memory.

The "Sicomous" was licensed to carry 260 passengers.

City Rotary Club Host To District Assembly

The current week has been and continues to be a very active one for the Penticton Rotary Club.

On Monday night the largely-attended installation banquet placed A. D. C. Washington in office as the new president, succeeding Dr. W. H. White, and the banquet was followed by a dance for the club members and their friends aboard the "Sicomous".

Meanwhile plans have been going forward in arranging for the district assembly which is to be held here from Friday to Sunday.

A. D. C. WASHINGTON

At this assembly, for District 153, it is expected that almost 50 presidents and secretaries of other clubs will be in attendance.

These out-of-town Rotary officers will be from centres in all parts of eastern B.C. and Washington and also from Idaho.

The visitors will be arriving here on Friday, and will hold their business sessions in the Masonic Temple on Saturday morning and afternoon. There will be a banquet in the Prince Charles Hotel that evening, and a picnic at the Summerland Experimental Station on Sunday.

C. B. Ewart, chairman of the assembly committee for the local club, has urged all local Rotarians to join in the program arrangements.

DR. W. H. WHITE

At Monday evening's banquet, held in the Incola Hotel, Dr. White reviewed the activities of the club during the past year, stressing the progress that had been made in the development of Rotary Memorial Park at the lakeshore, and pointing out that the club was making an important contribution to the forthcoming Peach Festival in sponsoring the industrial exposition feature. He referred to the radio auction and many other phases of the club's work, and was given hearty applause in leaving his year's term. He was presented with his past president's pin by J.

Fountain Sought

Harold Barritt, city parks foreman, will meet F. C. McNeill, of the Penticton Monumental Works, to discuss details of the drinking fountain Mr. McNeill proposes to erect near Lakeshore drive and a report will be made to the parks board before any plans are made.

Last week Mr. McNeill indicated that he would supply labor and materials for a drinking fountain if council would choose the location and erect an upright domestic water pipe.

Council referred the matter to the parks board for advice regarding possible location.

B. Feeney, J. D. McMynn, a former president of the club, revisiting Penticton for the occasion, was the installing officer.

Assuming their new duties at the first of next month are A. D. C. Washington, president; H. A. Nicholson, vice-president; C. W. Weatherman hasn't been kind to baseball in this part of the country so far this season, so here's hoping for sunshine on July 1 when the local club is staging a holiday tournament. Four teams, Penticton, Oliver, Summerland and Kamloops Okonots, will battle it out for the $500 in prize money. Baseball fans are to be given a break. The two day games, a doubleheader in the afternoon, are open to the fans at 60 cents for both games, the playoff night game is 60 cents, but all three games can be taken in at the bargain price of one dollar.

Variety is offered holidays here in the form of a gymkhana staged by the Penticton Riding Club. This event draws top riders from all parts of the valley. Competition is keen and an enjoyable afternoon can be spent at Queen's Park.

If you don't want to see baseball or horsemanship there are the beaches and, of course, there is always the garden. Anyone without a garden who has the urge to hoe spuds, weed the cabbage patch, thin off fruit trees has only to apply to this department and I can promise a busy, healthful holiday. Won't be around myself, I hope, gardening isn't among my favorite pursuits.

Expected to see a bigger crowd at the lacrosse game last Saturday, but I think there were enough people there to spread the word that boxla is a game worth seeing. The two clubs, Richmond Farmers and Kelowna Bruins, didn't spare themselves and gave the fans their money's worth. It's a good spectator game, plenty of, bodily contact and plenty of speed. Fred Madden had about 40 enthusiastic youngsters out for the first training session, Tuesday night. The kids have been split up into age groups and it's first things first, with stick drill the order of the day. Logical way to develop the game here would be to organize a commercial league, the commercial players, mostly has-beens, could train the youngsters. I doubt the possibility, after seeing Kelowna in action, of Penticton being able to field a team in the senior class, for at least two years.

The lassies didn't do so well in their softball season opener, but an occasional blowup can be forgiven. Penticton has always done well in softball and, with the material available this season, should again be able to top the valley.

Those Brunswick street tennis courts are continuing to grow the annual crop of weeds. Something should be done about them. A lot of youngsters want to play tennis, so do tourists. It's hard to believe that a city of this size has only two tennis courts.

Kamloops is back in the hockey picture and the old hockey executive is again at the helm. No agreement has yet been reached between the local hockey club and the parks board. The matter was supposed to have been settled before the league meeting which was held last night. Looking at the tentative schedule, if it goes through, we'll have Vernon here for every Saturday night game.

Other than delay in reaching agreement with the parks board, the hockey picture is bright. Quite a few worthwhile players are reported to have felled out in Penticton and, with most of last season's team still around, we should see a strong team come October. Dick and Bill Warwick are certain starters and if you want to get the idea of who will be on the team drop around some night and watch the Willie Schmidt coached softball team. The lineup reads like the V's roster for last season. Bill Carse was up from the south to take in the lacrosse game and, on Sunday, he was burning up the local golf course. Bill, according to my information, is expected to get the nod as coach for the V's again next season.

Just got word that Willie Schmidt will lead the V's, minus skates, out against the Kelowna Packers at King's Park on Sunday at 8:30 p.m. This should be a softball duel to end all softball duels. Don't know whether Phil Hergeshelmer will be coaching the Kelowna softball nine, but he'll be on hand with the Packers with the same lineup that upset Kamloops (remember). Whether the Packers can do as well on the diamond remains to be seen.

There's a possibility that the Athletics may add another pitcher to their very strong string. A young fellow named Ray Downey, currently strutting his stuff in Courtenay, over on the Island, is anxious to come here. Last season he played with Swift Current, way down on the bald-headed prairies, where he chalked up a nine win, six loss record. Les Edwards could certainly use an extra pitcher. Understand that coach Edwards will take the mound in the second game of the ball tourney on July 1, if the local get through the first round. Ted Bowsfield will start for the A's in the first game and, try to pitch them into the money.

Stopped by on the way to the office to watch the lawn bowlers doing their stuff. That's a game that was popular away back—if you remember history—Sir Francis Drake insisted on finishing his game of bowls before going out to trounce the Spaniards whose topsails were showing above the horizon from Plymouth Hoe. The game doesn't appear to have lost any of its appeal down through the centuries. It's not a headline maker and the folks who play seem to be more relaxed than—well, golfers for example—and if you don't believe me drop down any night to the club grounds on Brunswick street. Incidentally the lawn bowlers were playing under lights long before the baseball people ever thought of lighting up the park.

Athletics Overwhelm Kelowna Nine 17-1 In Comedy Of Errors

Penticton baseball fans who were lured down to King's Park last night by what looked like the night for a real hot pitchers' duel saw only a comedy of errors, as the local A's ran roughshod over a sadly disorganized Kelowna outfit for a lopsided 17-1 victory.

An otherwise dull game was enlivened somewhat by a smart four hit pitching performance by Ted Bowsfield, a grand-slam home run by "Sambo" Drossos, some fancy base running by Bill Nicholson and Mac Collins and several smart fielding plays.

The Kelowna nine had a bad night—they just couldn't do anything right and, to make matters worse, their usually hot pitcher, Wally Lesmeister, was about as cold as he could get.

Wally started on the mound for the visitors and lasted just two innings. The A's put together one hit and five misuses, two of them by third baseman Eddie Kielbiski, for five runs in the initial inning. A single by Collins and a double by Bill Raptis gave them three more in the second frame and that was all for Lesmeister.

He was replaced by Ray Zaccarelli, a newcomer to the league, who evidently works by the rule that if you can't strike him out, knock him out. While he was scarce with his hits, giving up only four, he was plenty wild and the A's spent more time trying to get out of the way of the ball than hitting it.

BIG SAM DOES IT
Zaccarelli was nicked for a single-run in the sixth and two in the seventh and then he followed Lesmeister to the showers in the eighth when big Sam Drossos created a little excitement with a grand slam home run high over the centre field fence with two out. Bo Carlson came in from third base to finish off the game and sent Grant Warwick down swinging.

Young Ted Bowsfield turned in another nice effort for the Athletics, allowing only four bingles and two walks and whiffing 15. Kelowna's lone tally came in the second inning when Ken Amundrud was waved to first after catcher Kev O'Connell had interfered with his bat and Wally Lesmeister slammed out a double to deep centre scoring him.

A large part of the credit for victory should go to O'Connell. The young backstop improves every time out and last night he was really hustling. On one play he rushed down to first base and covered up on an over-throw, nailing the runner at second.

The game marked the first appearance in Penticton uniform of Grant Warwick, of the famous brother hockey trio. Playing left field for the A's, Grant looked pretty good and when he gets his batting eye back the opposition fielders would be well advised to move back a bit. He sent one screamer down the third baseline last night which was good for two bases.

Drossos with two for six and Bill Nicholson with two for three paced the Athletics' eight hit attack, which, with ten Kelowna errors, gave them their big score.

NARAMATA, KELOWNA SHARE CRICKET LEAD
Naramata's chances of gaining a Spencer Cup cricket lead were spoiled last week when Kelowna snatched up its second win against Vernon in two consecutive matches. Kelowna's first win against Vernon came as something of a surprise and it seemed likely that the Vernon eleven would take revenge last Sunday. Such a result would have given the northern teams three points each against Naramata's six.

Naramata has beaten both Kelowna and Vernon. Vernon has still to win a game.

Local Sports Fans Turn Lacrosse Boosters After Rousing Boxla Exhibition

Close to 1,000-Penticton sports fans became rabid box lacrosse enthusiasts on Saturday night when the Kelowna Bruins and Richmond Farmers staged a rousing and rough exhibition of the colorful national game on the new Memorial arena floor.

From the fans' point of view the contest had everything—plenty of scoring, brilliant goaltending, an exciting last ditch rally, ample bruising checking and even a brief, but earnest, boxing match—but both the Richmond and Kelowna stalwarts would have preferred a victory to the 9-9 sawoff with which they had to be content.

The rugged Bruins, last season's provincial senior B champions, staged a torrid final quarter rally which wiped out a five goal deficit and tied the score at 9-9 as the final whistle blew.

The Orchard City looked as though they were going to run away with the game in the early stages after speedy John Ritchie had tallied twice and lanky Ernie Rampone once to give the Bruins a 3-0 lead.

Richmond's Ed Gilmore and the Bruins' burly Gordy Sundin added goals to the fire when they threw down sticks and gloves and squared off behind the Kelowna net. Referee Rolfe Sammartino and Ken Watt stood back and let the boys put on their little show and then banished them both for two minutes to cool their heels.

Sundin with a bloody nose for his trouble. Led by slippery little Harold Nicholls, the coast squad came back strong and with a classy short passing attack deadlocked the score at 3-3 as the initial quarter ended.

LAFACE SENSATIONAL
The next frame was all Richmond's as the coast champions banged in five unanswered goals and only some sensational goaltending by Al LaFace saved Kelowna from being even farther behind the eight ball. LaFace, who is one of the top goalies in the senior B division, lived up to his reputation and blocked several hot ones that had goal labelled all over them.

The third quarter was Kelowna's—or rather big Herb Capozzi's. The giant defenceman, who won fame on the gridiron with Vancouver College and later with the UBC Thunderbirds, displayed his football prowess time and again as he picked up the ball in his own zone and charged up the floor, scattering defenders left and right like so many flies.

Although the big fellow got only one goal he sparked the Bruins comeback and as far as the fans were concerned he was the individual star with his colorful rushes. FLEMING GETS EQUALIZER

Down 6-9 in the final period, the Okanagan boys continued pressing. Reg Martin, the "Galloping Ghost" of the Valley loop, loped in to cut the lead down one, classy junior Bruce Brydon added another a moment later, and, with a little more than a minute to go to full time, husky Don Fleming uncorked one of his blazing long shots which Richmond goalie Courtenay Forster didn't even see and it was all tied up with neither team able to break the deadlock as time ran out.

The Penticton fans—many of them witnessing their first boxla game—came to judge and gather from the cheering evidently liked what they saw and the faster this city can raise a lacrosse team of the calibre of the two teams which put on the rousing exhibition the happier they'll be.

If the enthusiasm of the fans at Saturday night's exhibition between Kelowna and Richmond is any indication, the colorful boxla game should catch on here easily if the players can be developed.

While they are concentrating on the bantam age boys, the coaches will welcome any boy of any age who wants to learn the fast national game or who has played before and is interested in keeping his hand in.

The idea of the whole setup is to promote the game in this city with the ultimate aim of entering a team in the valley senior loop.

Roeg's Gallery

By Dave Roegle

Lacrosse seems to have taken hold in our town. The 1000 or so fans who witnessed Saturday night's performance of cross-check unlimbed went home with a very favorable impression of what is supposedly Canada's national game.

Not much doubt about who was the outstanding performer of the game. Herb Capozzi, although he scored only one goal, kept the customers in suspense with his colorful playmaking and bruising attack. The bodies fell away like water off of a duck's back when he tried to pull the big boy down as he forged his way through a solid wall of human beings. I had heard on many occasions that the Kelowna boy was pretty senesal with a pig skin when he was at USC, and now I know why. He just couldn't be stopped and while his effectiveness was spoiled somewhat by his poor eyesight he nevertheless provided the essential color to the game.

As far as playing ability goes the Bruins goal-keeper should receive the fabled whacka call it. Al Laface was the only reason that Bruins were in the game at all. His goal tending was nothing short of sensational and while the sizzling Richmond attack produced goals at a clip for a while, only one in ten was getting by the ex-hockey goalie. Maybe we'd better not say anything. Judging by his performance here Saturday night he doesn't strike

one as being through. A STEADY DIET
Lacrosse for Penticton is a steady diet now seems to be in the hands of a small group of players of the past who are taking on the big job of instructing the youngsters of our town. Fred Madden, arena manager, is the big wheel in the organization and already many hours of work have been spent lining the lads up and getting them ready to start workouts. The first practice was held last night and an enthusiastic bunch of boys from all age groups were out.

Fred is of the opinion that a senior team could be formed next year if some of the bigger boys catch onto the game well enough this summer and a few experienced men can be induced to come to Penticton. Another exhibition game may be held here later on between the New Westminster Salmonacs and the Bruins.

We've almost forgotten that this is baseball season. It seems like months since the local nine performed at King's Park, and to say that interest is waning is putting it mildly. The lawns and gardens are never in better shape than they are this year. It's been a long time since every Sunday was spent with the rake and hoe but what is a guy to do? No baseball, golf costs too much money, it's too cold at the beach so the weeds catch heck.

As the saying goes, something should be done about it. This is exactly what some were afraid of when the idea of week night baseball was first proposed. Granted the weatherman has had a hand in putting the damper on, but there seemed to be a lag in enthusiasm before. It's hard to change the habits of fans built over many years and while we can't censure the local executive for experimenting this season we can caution them that if Joe Blow gets too wrapped up in his nassurtisms he may begin to prefer them to watching baseball.

MAKING A STRONG BID
Along the same lines, softball is making a strong bid for recognition and next year should see some good ball in Penticton. The crowd of junior girls that scrambled onto the diamond at Kiwanis park a few weeks ago is boiling down into a four team junior league and two pre-junior teams that boast plenty of enthusiasm and a willingness to learn.

To prove just how fast the kids can learn the fundamentals of the game a fair crowd saw the 1952 edition of the Rexalls made up mostly of juniors perform remarkably well considering that for many it was their first game. Seems as how a junior club from our town should do very well this year.

In the men's softball department the B.C. Hotel nine are ready for their first game this Sunday when they renew the rivalry of the ice lanes with the Kelowna softball team. Phil Hergeshelmer, Mike Daski and the whole gang will be here in Penticton Sunday for a 6:30 game at the Kiwanis park. We'll see you there.

Kelowna's Boxla Bruins Trim Kamloops Klippers
KELOWNA—Kelowna Bruins last Thursday night maintained their winning ways over the Kamloops Klippers in the Interior lacrosse league, but it took a terrific drive in the last half to down the short-handed mainline crew.

Sparked by Tommy Powell on the scoring end and with Leo Delibuchi performing sensationally in the net, the 11-strong Kamloops squad lunged to an 8-3 lead by half-time. But staying power began to tell from then on as the fresher Bruins rammed in five goals to one against in the third and counted four unanswered tallies in the finale.

Outdoors with Cec Brett

The way I heard it I just have to have a column in this week or the sports page will be a complete flop. What with baseball games being washed out last week, and tidily-winks not having started yet, the sports writers are having to depend on their feeble imaginations to fill this sheet up. I'm just a novice at the game of writing and I feel that the responsibility is more than I am entitled to. However, never say die! The deadline must come to life! The press is the voice of the people (what is singular for people?) The presses must roll! Old newspapers have never set the world on fire. Say mister, have you got a match?

Now that I have got those snide, sarcastic and I am afraid fighting words out of my system I can give a report on the clear, pure and almost unadulterated outdoors.

Penticton has two of the finest beaches to be found anywhere in the interior. One of them is adulterated. I am referring to Skaha Lake. This lake, apart from having one of the finest beaches in the province, is getting special attention from the game department with regard to sport fishing. Last year over forty thousand Kamloops (Rainbow) trout were put into the lake. Most of these fish were from three to six inches in length and should have had a 60 percent chance of survival under natural conditions. This fall the game commission plans to put at least ten thousand eight inch trout into Skaha Lake which should have better than 80 percent chance of survival.

Why is the government doing this? One reason is that Steve Stogre, operator of Skaha Lake Boat Rental, has co-operated with the game commission and supplied them with accurate information on the operation of his camp with regard to length and weight. Another reason is that the commission realizes the importance of sport fishing to this area and is doing everything in its power to make the most of it.

Skaha Lake is now being polluted with oil from the railway yards and unless this situation is remedied soon, the fish and the game matter up with the railway company and it is to be hoped that immediate attention will be given to this problem.

Fishing has been spotty these past few weeks. The weather has not been satisfactory for good fly-fishing and only the people who were lucky in picking a good day have anything to brag about.

In spite of the weather the fish have to eat and they can be caught during their feeding periods. More and more fishermen are referring to their solunar tables these days and it is paying off. Just one instance: a couple of weeks ago I was up at Chute Lake. The day was blustery and cold and nobody was having much luck. I noticed a chap sitting in his car so went over to have a chat with him and find out what luck he had had, if any, and what fly he had used. He told me that he was saving his strength until seven o'clock when the major period was due to come on. I had to leave early but I found out afterwards that he had caught his limit between 7 and 8:30 that evening. These tables are published in the Vancouver Daily Province every day. If you wish, you can buy them in book form at most sporting goods stores.

The sedges have started to hatch in many of our mountain lakes now so the best flies to take along are the green sedge, grizzly king, coachman and black O'Leary.

The Little River run is on and anybody who wants to go a little farther afield would do well to spend their week-end at Dick Schouten's camp at Silver Beach or at the mouth of the Adams River. Streamer flies, flatfish or a small Game Guide flatie are good baits.

Other good bets for the week-end are Chute Lake, Bear Lake and Howard Clark's lakes, Monroe, Deane and Deane. The Headwaters camp lakes in from Peachland are also producing lots of fish.

was that Kelowna shortstop—she with the long black tresses—she was darned good, and so was Rexalls' first base and also that little one they put in as right fielder for Rexalls in the last two innings. She's only a youngster as the other girls go, but she's chuck full of vitality and a try all the time, and she seems to me to have the makings of a good player with proper coaching. I noticed her also the night when I saw them practice. She never stops trying.

BOXLA GREAT
That boxla game was great—Vancouver was leading eight to three at half way—then Kelowna made it eight to six end of the third period. Then Vancouver scored again and Kelowna replied with three goals to tie it all up. It is a game I'm not at all familiar with, but I sure look as if I've have any, but it sure looks as if advertised—rough, tough, and I'd add, nasty. A man has to be in great shape to stand the gaff—for it's very fast, much more so, they tell me, than field lacrosse.

I've played in some rough sports, notably rugby, in days gone by, but when it comes to lacrosse, just let me be a spectator and I'll be happy! That Kelowna No. 12, big Mr. Rex, was a treat and a laugh to see how he barged through all the opposition that tried all they knew to stop him.

In soccer, see where over 24,000 paid to watch Tottenham Hotspurs humiliate the English league champions, Manchester United, 5-0, at Varsity Stadium, Toronto, with about 6,000 "crash the gate Con-nollys" (how come?). That's over 30,000—and I think the record for the Grey Cup final was 29,000.

Friday (tomorrow) June 27, another meeting of the Hockey Booster Club at the Elks Hall at 8 p.m. Important business coming up, boys, so try and make it if you can.

And finally a word of congratulations to those three fine boys, the Warwick Brothers, Grant, Dick and Bill, for having finally established themselves in business in our town. If they succeed, it's going to be a fine thing for them and also for our hockey club for the years to come.

Cristante Pitches Summerland Juniors To No-Hit Victory
KELOWNA—Kelowna Junior baseball fans had their second chance in as many years to see a no-hitter fashioned, before their eyes when Don Cristante, team right-hander with the Summerland Red Sox, handcrafted the Kelowna Chiefs Sunday for a one-sided 13-1 victory. It was the second game he had pitched this year.

Cristante had the number of the Chief's batters so badly that the Summerland outfield might just as well have been on the bench during every inning but the seventh. In the seventh Ed Coolen poled out a blow into center that center fielder Deslats handled without too much trouble.

For the other 26 putouts, Cristante either struck the Chiefs out or had them pushing rollers to the infielders. His strikeout total was 11.

General agreement to the broadly changed 27 game schedule, which will provide each club with a week-day and a Saturday night game every

Gatin's Three Hit Job Gives Kamloops 6-3 Win At Oliver

KAMLOOPS—Len Gatin allowed only three hits and struck out nine Sunday afternoon at Oliver as Kamloops Elks broke even for the first time in 1952 Okanagan Mainline Baseball League play by downing Oliver Elks 6-3. The victory was Elks' sixth as against six losses. Elks took a 2-1 edge in the first inning but Oliver tied it up in the second. Kamloops went on a three-run spurge in the seventh to take a 5-2 lead. With one man out Bill Marriott was safe at first on an error. Kay Kaminishi walked and Frank Vaselenak singled to load the bases. Harry Maralla then doubled to score all three runners.

Kamloops made it 6-2 in the eighth as Gatin singled and scored on a single by Marriott.

Oliver scored its third run in the ninth. Elks collected seven hits off Oliver pitcher Hal Cousins.

Vaselenak and Maralla paced Kamloops hitters with two hits each. The Oliver safeties were collected by Cory, Fleming and Eisenhut.

Top-Flight Boxing Bout Planned

VERNON — Jack Berry, boxing promoter and manager of a number of top flight fighters, arrived in Vernon last week, and immediately went into conference with Don Warner and Jim Young, representatives of the Vernon Diamond Jubilee committee.

Mr. Berry plans to stage a fight between Ernie Walls, Canadian heavyweight champion, and the sensation of the American fight world, Henry Matthews.

Jack Hurly, manager of Matthews, is being contacted in Seattle and every effort is being made to arrange the bout here in Vernon.

The one thing that could postpone the meeting would be the fact that Matthews will probably be fighting Rocky Marciano in a very important bout sometime late in July.

If the fight can be staged here, it will put this city on the sports map, and give the Vernon Jubilee valuable publicity, not only in Canada, but also in the States.

Should the fight fall through, Mr. Berry may try for a couple of top light weights. A match will not be put on unless the men are well known to boxing fans of the Interior and the Lower Mainland.

George (Gorgeous George) Sisler, first baseman, lifetime batting average .340 in 16 years hit .407 and .420 (tied with Cobb) for American League record. Six times over 200 hits. Winner of Most Valuable Player Award once. Fielding average .987. Hit in 41 straight games.

Canucks Stay On Top Of Junior Loop With 14-7 Osoyoos Win

Penticton's Junior Canucks continued their winning ways and kept pace with the Summerland Red Sox on Sunday when they doubled the score on the home town Osoyoos nine for a 14-7 triumph in a South Okanagan Junior League fixture.

Don Marshall and Garry Ball shared mound duties for the Canucks and limited Osoyoos batters to seven hits and a like number of runs while their teammates connected for 10 bingles off Osoyoos chucker Balogh.

Marshall started for the Penticton crew and blanked the Osoyoos outfit until the fifth when they scored two runs on singles by Balogh and Englesby and two errors.

The Southern nine exploded in the sixth, batting round the order and pushing across five runs to force Marshall from the mound.

Ball came in and quickly brought things under control.

He struck out all three batters to face him in the seventh and gave up only one walk and no hits for the remainder of the route.

The Canucks took advantage of some loose play in the southern team's infield to score four runs in the second inning and added another quartette in the fifth to take a lead they never relinquished.

BIG SIXTH INNING
 Singles by Pete Tomlin and Ed Garnett and doubles by Lloyd Bur-gart and Frazer, plus a walk and a couple of errors, gave the Penticton crew five big runs in a sixth inning rally which put the game out of Osoyoos' reach.

Burgart and Tomlin paced the Canucks' attack at the plate, each with two hits in five trips, while Frazer collected two for six, including a double.

Stobart, Larry Jordan, Garnett and Ball added singletons. Englesby was the only Osoyoos player to hit safely more than once, with two hits in five times at the plate.

The other Osoyoos hits went to Spencer, Yusep, Plut, Keiss and Balogh, each with one bingle.

The win keeps the Canucks deadlocked for top spot in the league with the Summerland Red Sox aggregation which handed the Kelowna entry a 13-1 shellacking behind the no-hit effort of young Don Cristante.

First Game Jitters Ruin Rexalls' Debut; Defeated By Kelowna Aces In Women's Softball Exhibition

A bad case of first game jitters ruined the Penticton Rexalls' debut when they fell apart by the seams in the late innings to drop a 23-6 decision to the visiting Kelowna Aces in a women's softball exhibition at Kiwanis park on Sunday afternoon.

With only three of their players over junior age, the Rexalls put on a good show for six innings and were leading 8-6 going into the fatal seventh when an outbreak of errors gave the Orchard City nine an easy victory.

The loss was a big disappointment to young Evelyn Bradshaw who hurled a masterful three hitter for the Rexalls and gave up no free passes. With Evelyn on the mound, the Rexalls, when they get over their nervousness, could win a good many ball games this season.

With the intention of giving all his young players a chance, coach Gerry O'Hara switched his outfield in the seventh and put in three untried rookies. The Aces' coach countered by throwing his best chucker, Olive Pope, into the fray.

Kelowna tied up the ball game at 8-8 in the seventh, but Diane Butler playing her first game, evidently had not heard of Miss Pope's reputation as a pitcher and managed out a double, went to third on a passed ball and stole home to put the Rexalls out in front again.

BIG BLOWUP
 Then the big blowup came as the Penticton field kicked the ball around for two innings and the Aces scampered around the base paths with monotonous regularity to run away with the game.

Coaches O'Hara and Dave Roegle were not in the least discouraged by their team's showing and feel that, after a few more games, they will be equal to tackling anything in their age bracket in the Valley.

With the majority of their players under the junior age limit, the coaches plan to field a junior team and go after the B.C. laurels in this division.

Standouts in Sunday's game were pitcher Bradshaw and centre fielder Diane Butler who came up with some dandy catches. Fay Cutler hit three for four for the losers.

Miss Cutler and Joan McKee are the only two of the old Rexall powerhouse still around and Joan, one of Penticton's best women athletes, has left this city to join the ROAF.

so the Rexalls will be starting from scratch.

The team fielded Sunday was picked from the four team junior city loop which is being organized. The girls practice in Kiwanis Park three times a week and league play will get underway in the near future.

Two pre-junior teams have also been organized with all the players under 12 years of age.

U.S. Citizens Living In B.C. Must Register For Military Service

As the result of a proclamation made by the President of the United States in April, all male citizens of the United States living abroad, who are between the ages of 18 and 30 years and who have not been registered previously, are now required to register during the period July 1 to 31 for service and training in the armed forces of the United States.

United States citizens residing in Canada, who were born after July 31, 1934, are required to register within five days of their eighteenth birthday.

Persons covered by the proclamation residing in or near Vancouver may register at the American Consulate General on the twelfth floor of the Marine Building.

For the convenience of American citizens residing elsewhere in the province, deputy registrars, who are empowered to accept registrations, have been appointed at various points throughout B.C.

The deputy registrar in Penticton is Minor E. Johnson and any American citizens residing in this area may register by contacting him.

Guests At Banquet

Friends and relatives of Youth for Christ executive, committees and choir were guests at a Chinese banquet recently in the Jasmine Room of the Flower Grill.

Following the dinner the audience was entertained by a comedy skit, "King Arthur's Night," presented by the following cast: Bill Kent as King Arthur, Dannie Starrett as the King's father, Nola Hartley, Irene Starrett, and Catherine Shaw as three unidentified lovely young misses and the narrator and producer, Ron King.

Included in the program was a instrumental number by Bert and Melvyn Hillmer, solos by Miss Ruth Best and Miss Uldine Peterson. Group singing was led by Rev. V. Williams and the meeting was brought to a close by a short but inspiring message from the director, Arthur George.

Open New Wing
Kelowna Hospital

KELOWNA—The new wing of the Kelowna General Hospital was officially opened Wednesday, by R. P. Walrod, member of the hospital board and chairman of the building committee. The opening ceremony was a colorful one in keeping with the occasion. Mr. Walrod, supported by a galaxy of hospital, civic and governmental officials. The public, which attended in force, was given the opportunity to inspect the new building following the opening ceremonies.

W. E. Adams, president of the hospital board, was chairman of the ceremonies. Representing the city was Mayor J. J. Ladd, while Dr. W. P. Anderson, president of the medical staff, spoke for the medical fraternity.

L. Detweiler, chairman of the British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service, represented that body.

O. L. Jones, M.P. for Yale, was asked to attend on behalf of the Federal Government, which contributed $1,000 a bed to the cost of the new structure.

NEWEST SOURCE OF HYDRO-ELECTRIC power, the B.C. Power Commission's 4,000-horsepower Clowhom Falls development was officially opened yesterday afternoon. Serving more than 1,300 customers on the Sechelt Peninsula, the huge new power plant has been delivering hydro-electric power since May. The development has an initial capacity of 4,000 turbine horsepower, but has been constructed so as to allow for expansion to an ultimate capacity of 12,000 horsepower if the need should arise.B. C. Power Commission
Power Plant At Clowhom
Falls Now In Operation

British Columbia's newest source of hydro-electric power—the B.C. Power Commission's 4,000-horsepower Clowhom Falls Development—has commenced operation.

The development serves the Sechelt Peninsula, up-coast from Vancouver, including the communities of Gibson's, Grantham's Landing, Hopkin's Landing, Selma Park, Wilson Creek, Roberts Creek and Sechelt.

The development itself is situated at the head of Salmon Arm, a finger-like offshoot of Sechelt Inlet. It was in the picturesque, out the province.

Electrical energy from two horizontal Bepco generators is transmitted from the new plant 22½ miles over a 66,000-volt line to a new sub-station at Sechelt. There it is stepped down for distribution on two 6.9/12 kilovolt circuits.

The Clowhom Development has an initial capacity of 4,000 turbine horsepower, but can be expanded to an ultimate capacity of 12,000 horsepower.

Second stage of the development, if and when it proves necessary, would call for two 4,000-horsepower vertical-type turbines and generators.

A feature of the development is location of the powerhouse site at sea level, at the extreme top of Salmon Arm, where the twin Clowhom Falls tumble into the sea. Accessibility by water was an advantage in the construction of the plant.

A good potential watershed because of water storage from glaciers and snow assures a stable runoff into the two Clowhom Lakes, just above the power site, and down the Clowhom River into the arm.

Through the area, the usual coastal rainfall, its location amid towering mountains gives it a considerable amount of protection from more severe weather. Often in winter when Sechelt has a few inches of snow, none falls at Clowhom Falls.

BUILT FROM RAFTS Construction of the transmission line has been a story in itself. Because mountains slope steeply into the arm, about 80 percent of the 22½-mile line was built from rafts.

Men clambered up the rugged shoreline with air hoses hooked onto compressors on the rafts to dig pole holes in solid rock.

Poles for the H-frame structures which carry the line were set using an A-frame and gin pole mounted on a raft. Similarly, stringing of conductor had to be carried out from the water, using small boats and machinery on floats.

For 10 miles from the powerhouse the line zig-zags back and forth and up and down the steep shoreline, jumping from point to point, crossing hundreds of tiny creeks and waterfalls.

Then it leaves the water and climbs sharply upwards over a 2,600-foot pass between towering coastal peaks and drops down into the new Sechelt substation.

Major portion of the cost of providing a crossover and improving the sidewalk near the Triangle Service property on Front street will be borne by the company and the city will provide the remainder, council agreed Monday.

Paul G. W. Walker, city engineer, reported to council that the cost is estimated at $300 and that the company will pay $250 of this amount.

Mr. Walker reported that break-up in the sidewalk could have been avoided if a crossover had been constructed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jan Wiseman arrived home on Sunday from a short visit in Vancouver.

Rev. G. G. Harris, pastor of the Naramata United Church, and Mrs. Harris are leaving Tuesday to take up residence in Peachland. Mr. Harris is assuming the ministerial duties of the church in Peachland, Westbank parish. His induction ceremony will take place on the evening of July 11 in the Westbank United Church.

W. E. Noyes of Seattle was a week-end visitor with his mother, Mrs. Frances Noyes, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Noyes.

H. B. Rushbury, who has been a patient in the Penticton Hospital, returned to his home on Friday.

As the result of recent examinations conducted by the Naramata United Church Sunday School the pupils will receive their prizes on Sunday. This special occasion will mark the beginning of a summer recess for the Sunday School.

The Naramata Red Cross evening work group, which meets weekly to make surgical dressings for the blood transfusion service, has called a recess for the summer months. Mrs. Cyril T. The workers will reconvene in the fall.

While enroute to Vancouver Mr. and Mrs. C. J. S. Warrington, of Montreal, participated in a family reunion here last week. Mr. Warrington, who is a brother of J. E. T. Warrington, Naramata post master, is on loan from the Canadian Industry Ltd. to the Defence Production Division of the Dominion Government. Other family members present were Mr. Warrington's sister, Mrs. M. Waltham, Penticton, and brother, W. Warrington, of Beaverdell.

Miss Gloria Drought, who attends school in Vancouver, arrived home last week to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Drought.

Miss Joanne Vaughan left on Monday for Chilliwack where she will holiday for the summer months.

The annual Sunday School and congregational picnic of the Naramata United Church will be held Saturday afternoon at Manitou Park.

Week-end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Cyril T. Rayner were the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. Vickerson, and Carol and Donna, of Ladner.

On Saturday afternoon commencing at 3 o'clock the Naramata Brownie Pack and Girl Guide Company are sponsoring a tea and sale of homecooking at Manitou Park.

An interesting feature of the affair will be the presentation of the year's award badges to the Brownies and Guides of Naramata.

Visitors with Rev. and Mrs. G. G. Harris are the latter's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Calder McKaig, of Cromarty, Ontario.

Water Department Will Investigate Request For Main

Alderman W. D. Haddleton and the city engineer will investigate a request for a two inch water main, made to City Council Monday by Mrs. E. J. Baukhram, before any improvement to the existing service is made.

At the meeting Mrs. Baukhram asked that the three quarter inch main should be replaced by a two inch pipe and added that if the city would provide two men she would arrange for other labor.

She explained that her neighbor had 46 fruit trees on his property and said that when she was using water he had none for his trees. "If the city has the pipe we will help to put it in," she assured council.

"I hate to ask residents to dig ditches. This property would not be top of the priority list. We have the pipe but there is no money to provide labor to install it," Alderman W. D. Haddleton said. "Putting men on this job might mean taking them off another."

Richard F. Raikes, well-known accountant at the Bank of Montreal's local office from 1939 to 1943, returns to Penticton to succeed Walter Wright as manager of the branch. Mr. Wright will retire on pension at the end of the month, following more than six years in charge here.

Mr. Raikes, a banker of more than 30 years' experience, brings to his new post a wide background of banking knowledge gained since he first joined the bank at Haney, in charge here.

R. F. RAIKES

1929. In the following years, he served at various branches of the bank throughout British Columbia, including those at Kelowna, Enderby, Kimberley and the important Vancouver main office.

Mr. Raikes received his first appointment in 1937, as accountant at North Vancouver. Two years later he was transferred to the local office in a similar capacity. During his stay here, Mr. Raikes made many friends and business acquaintances and took an active part in the civic and community events of the district. In 1942, he was a charter member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and later president of that organization.

In 1943, he was posted as accountant to the Main and Hastings streets branch in Vancouver, and, following three years there, was transferred to the superintendent's department in Vancouver, where he served as a special representative. Three years ago, he was promoted to the management of the West Point Grey, University District office, in that city, which post he now leaves to take charge of the local office.

While in Vancouver, Mr. Raikes served as chairman of Industrial and Commercial campaigns for the Red Cross and Community Chest. He was also an executive member of the Advertising and Sales Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

With his elder son, Dick, Mr. Raikes flew in to assume his new duties here on Monday. His wife, who shares his popularity in this community, will be joining him, here with their younger son and their daughter at a later date.

Mr. Wright, popular retiring manager, has become well known to the local residents both for his capable banking and for his wholehearted participation in civic affairs.

Mr. Wright is retiring from the bank, after nearly 40 years' service, and will continue to make his home in the Summerland area.

Mayors Will Discuss Municipalities' Role In National Security Effort

The Fifteenth Annual Conference of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities will be held in Calgary, from June 29 to July 3, the president, Alderman George C. Miller, of Vancouver, announced this week.

"A special feature of this year's program," said Alderman Miller, "is the consideration being given to the role that the municipalities can play in the nation's security program."

The president stressed that this theme of national security was not to be interpreted narrowly. Apart from sessions devoted to civil defence, planning and organization and a field demonstration by the defence establishment illustrating preparedness activities of the armed forces, the conference will also consider the wider aspects of national security.

"A solid foundation," the president's statement said, "for a full and effective national security program involves careful physical, social, and financial planning and forethought by municipalities in order to deal with the multiplicity of complex problems created by the present period of rapid urban growth and national economic development."

MUNICIPAL FINANCE

Toward this end, conference sessions will be devoted to a discussion of such topics as municipal finance and taxation, town planning, assimilation of new Canadians and what the municipalities can do.

Pupils Of Watson Music Studios Pass Recent Examinations

Seventeen of the 30 district musicians who were successful in the Associated Board of Royal Schools of Music examination conducted recently in this city were pupils of the Watson Music Studios.

Five of the local studio's pupils were awarded certificates for pianoforte and 12 for violin.

The successful pianoforte candidates were Lena Cluett, grade two; Corinne Rondelet, David McCrady, Roberta Bromley, Helen Paslawski, grade one.

Those who received violin certificates were Bernie Bernbach, Lori Klix, Summerland, Sharon Dowds, Summerland, Weldon Menden, Keremeros, grade four; Philip Paslawski, grade three; Helen Paslawski, passed with merit, grade two; Lowell Laidlaw, Ronald Downes and Larry Lemke, all of Summerland, Ian Macdonald, Ryan Campbell and Sylvia Huot, grade one.

tawa; W. Harold Clark, president of the Community Planning Association of Canada; J. O. Asselin, president of the Montreal Metropolitan Commission, and many others.

NATIONAL MUNICIPAL FORUM

The conference, as in past years, will be conducted on a parliamentary basis. Over fifty resolutions submitted by municipal governments will be considered. Advance registrations indicate that the meeting will probably be the most representative national municipal forum ever held by the federation, with over 500 municipal officials having signified their intention of attending.

"This year's conference of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities," Alderman Miller's statement concluded, "has set itself a high objective. But it is an objective worthy of our every effort and a challenge to every municipality in Canada. We realize that in the building of Canadian national security and economic development the municipalities must play a significant role. What this conference proposes to do is to determine the best methods that municipal governments can utilize toward this end."

Needlecraft News

THE BRAND NEW addition to your family naturally deserves the best of everything—and you'll probably see to it that he gets it. One of the nicest things about making preparations for a new baby is that you can make so many articles by hand. It's so much fun to knit, sew or crochet the tiny garments that a baby needs.

When Mother was a Girl

When Mother was an infant in pink, increased activity in the family sewing circle meant a blessed coming event. Busy fingers fashioned layettes; fond relatives prepared to dress Baby in hand-made finery from bonnet to bootie and every stitch was made by hand. Then came the era of ready-mades and Baby's wardrobe loses its individuality. But once again infants are blossoming out in garments made at home. There is more than one good reason for this. Wise Mothers realize that, with the present day high prices, sewing at home contributes the only sensible solution to Baby's clothing problem.

Knitwear for Infants

Knitted garments are very important to Baby's wardrobe. Apart from their being good looking, they serve a practical purpose as well. The fine, light weight wool keeps Baby warm and does not hamper his movements in any way. When you are making the little garments, it is advisable to keep a few important things in mind. You should watch your tension and before starting your knitting, check with your instructions to find out the right size wool and knitting pins indicated which will help you to do this. Many patterns are given in a choice of sizes, and it is a good idea to choose a larger size in order for the child to be able to wear it for a longer period. If you are making a gift, a 1 year size is appreciated as so often Baby has too many little garments and nothing to wear when he starts to grow. Proper wool is recommended as it has been treated against shrinkage and finished with an extra soft surface so that it will not irritate the delicate skin.

Knitted Jacket, Bonnet and Booties

The sweet little set pictured here can be easily made from only 4 ozs. of baby wool, 5 dainty buttons and 2 yds. of ribbon. If you would like to have a direction leaflet for 3, 6 and 9 mos. sizes, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting SMILIN' THROUGH, Leaflet No. CW-36.

Pretty-As-A-Picture Look For Little Girls' Fashions

Summer, 1952, will find the Pretty-as-Picture look in fashion also—and in miniature! For little glamor girls are finding the season just as exciting, fashion-wise, as their mothers.

Tots to teen-agers will look picturesque this summer with tiny, tight-fitting waists, full, full skirts and big sleeves. Paris hasn't overlooked the petite fille when it comes to the smart Victorian influence in fashion.

Little girls will let their gay, stiff petticoats peek provocatively from under their billowing skirts. Leading this fashion are the quilted cotton skirts done in reversible styles with a spirited print on one side and a contrasting plain color on the other. With their swirling skirts, they'll wear blouses with either perky, puffed sleeves or the sleeveless, barearm look.

Sweaters on the smaller scale will feature the same glamorous touches as those worn by style-conscious women for the new dress-ed-up details are highlighting sweaters for girls of all ages. Touches of embroidery, shell, braid, and glitter trims are dominating the sweater fashion scene. Baby turtle necks, sleeveless styles, dolman sleeves, and heraldic motifs are new in girls' sweaters.

The gretchen-the-briar topper is a newsworthy fashion for girls and makes an adorable duo with the fuller skirt. These rib-length toppers are being featured in checks, pastel fleeces, wool suede, and poodle cloth. They feature push-up sleeves, wide cuffs, and shawl or mandarin collars.

Full-length coats are being shown in crisp ottoman and Benegaline in both the flatteringly princess-line and the pyramid coat. Girls' suits will feature the swirling skirt with its own stiffened petticoat. Coats with detachable capelets are also starring in the fashion picture for summer.

Young girls can give full sway to their love for color this year. They can pick from a bouquet of pastels with lilac, crocus yellow, mint green, grey, pink, and soft blues the leading favorites.

Cottons will be more beloved than ever when little girls see the dresses for spring-into-summer! The most popular are broadcloths, tissue chambrays, soft plaid ginghams, and bright calico prints.

Little ladies this year are dressed for the part... never prettier... never more feminine... as charming and delectable as a tiny type in Grandmother's attic!

Shoes play a very important part in producing industrial accidents among women. It is reported that too often women workers wear sandals, bedroom slippers or worn-out shoes with thin soles and high or run-down heels. In addition to injuries through falls, complaints of fatigue and nervousness in women workers, can sometimes be traced to badly fitting or improper shoes. For comfort and safety, low heel, closed toe shoes should be worn. Properly fitted shoes with good soles help to maintain footing on wet, slippery floors.

Vinegar is a fine cleanser for pots and pans that have acquired an odor from cooking fish, cabbage, etc., and removes grease from stoves before polishing. Hot vinegar will remove paint from stains on glass.

Home Planning And The Laundry

Never before has home planning brought forth so much ready information on ideas and schemes for the home laundry. There was a time when it was thought of in terms of a washing machine and washtubs off in some dingy corner of the basement. But with the innovation of utility rooms, planned basements and more extensive kitchens, the home laundry is actually becoming a reality.

Greater consideration is being given to making this room as pleasant a working space as the kitchen, when it is not already a part of that room. Home economists have pointed the way toward improved home laundering by emphasizing the logical work sequence. It is difficult, however, for the homeowner to apply the principles of efficient home laundering if her laundry equipment must be placed in whatever space happens to be available for it without any relation to the sequence of the work. Arrangement of a modern home laundry must depend upon electricity supply and the location of electrical connections.

The ideal home laundry is lit by fluorescent lights, and contains a water heater, an automatic washer, an automatic electric clothes dryer, an ironer, a hand iron, a built-in ventilating fan and a hot-plate.

Because of present building costs, and the need to keep overhead to a minimum, the young couple building a new home may feel they can-

Baked stuffed tomatoes are one of the first joys of the summer vegetable crop, even better with a mushroom sauce. To make 6 servings, just remove stem ends from 6 tomatoes and scoop out pulp. Mix the chopped pulp with a little cooked chopped onion and 2 1/2 cups soft bread cubes. Fill tomato shells with mixture and bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes. Make the sauce with 1 can of condensed cream of mushroom soup; mix this with 1 1/3 cup milk and simmer till hot. Pour over tomatoes. A supper in itself with cold, cuts and hot rolls.

Plump cooked prunes served ice-cold with a tablespoon of creme de menthe over each serving tastes amazingly refreshing for a quick summer dessert. If you like whipped cream and aren't counting calories, then try a spoonful of the rich wonderful stuff over the prunes.

not afford all this equipment at the present time. However, they will want to plan for it. Consultation with the architect and builder will indicate the most likely location in the plan for the laundry. Further discussion with Electric Service League, electrical contractor or electric utility company will bring forth a good plan for wiring, adequate to meet all future needs. It will save considerable expense and inconvenience at a later date, if provision is made for such future expansion at the time of the initial installation.

Of course you want them to be perfectly set and full of fresh fruit flavour... so be sure you've got CERTO FRUIT PECTIN on hand. It's so easy to make jams and jellies with Certo. You'll find, with Certo, that you get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit! What's more, Certo helps you do your "jamming and jelling" in about one-third of the time of the old, long-boil method. How come? Well, you see, Certo is the natural jelling substance of fruits, in concentrated form. So when you use Certo, instead of boiling down your fruit mixture until it's sufficiently concentrated to set, you simply add Certo and reduce boiling time to just 1 minute for either jams or jellies. And just think how that preserves the colour and flavour! No matter what your favourite fruits—strawberry, raspberry, plum or cherry—jams and jellies have a deeper, more satisfying appeal when you make them yourself—with Certo Fruit Pectin.

Missionary Tells Of Battle Against Leprosy In Far Eastern Countries

Story of missionary work among the lepers in far eastern countries was told last night in the Baptist Church here by the Rev. Harold C. Etter, general director of the International Christian Leprosy Mission, who has made two trips, covering 45,000 miles, to China, India and the Philippines since the end of the second world war.

Mr. Etter explained that the ICLM has witnessed during the excellent approach for preaching the Gospel, and the patients readily respond and become Christians.

The cost of this clinical approach is only about $24 per patient a year including the ayosulfon and evangelistic work. The patients are not ostracized and through checking the incipient cases and the care of newly born children of leprosy the incidence of this age-old disease can be effectively reduced. Leprosy is not hereditary but children are most susceptible. The Mission also trains Christian nationals with the aim of developing indigenous work.

The work of the ICLM is entirely dependent on voluntary support. The Headquarters of the Mission are at 6817 S.W. Oak Drive, Portland 18, Oregon.

Contributions from Canadian friends may be forwarded to the ICLM care of the Fairview Branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Sixth and Granville, Vancouver, B.C.

Two missionary nurses have gone to do mobile clinic work in the Central Provinces and Bombay Province, and a missionary couple has taken over supervision of the preventative for children of leprosy parents in San Juan, near Manila. A missionary nurse is scheduled to sail for the nursery work this fall.

In Africa, three centres of cooperative work with another mission are open, and three more will soon be started with the use of the ICLM mobile clinic. At these six centres it is estimated that 500 patients will be treated. Already rapid improvement in patients has occurred through the therapy with one of the new sulphon drugs—Ayosulfon.

Through these mobile units it is possible to go out from the base treatment centres and reach the early cases in the villages and at roadside clinics. This provides an

Automobile Becoming Increasingly Important In Lives Of Canadians

About 3,500,000 adult Canadians use a motor car every day.

Only nine of every 100 miles they drive are strictly for pleasure purposes.

Nearly half of all employed Canadians use a car in connection with their work.

These are three of many hitherto unknown facts and figures contained in the unique report: "A Study of the Automobile in the Daily Life of the Canadian People."

The study, the result of a coast-to-coast survey, was sponsored by the Canadian Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is 100 pages thick and was undertaken to find out just how the automobile fits into the economic and social pattern of Canadian life.

The report shows that 84 percent of all miles driven by Canadians are for some essential purpose. Only 16 percent are for what is classified as non-essential and even that includes going to the movies, a ball game, or visiting.

The average Canadian drives 6,200 miles a year. The average speedometer reading of all cars in Canada is 27,000. Nearly half—800,000 of the 1,800,000 privately-owned passenger cars registered—are ten years old or more.

USED IN EARNING A LIVING About 1,300,000 of the 1,800,000 privately-owned cars are used every week for earning a living. Nine out of ten are used either for working, shopping, or some other essential purpose.

Within three months, nine out of ten adult Canadians use a car for some purpose or other. Nearly 1,000,000 use a car at some time each week.

Twenty-seven per cent of all housewives use a car every single day. Other major users: Professionals, managers, proprietors, executives.

Canada's Top Soprano To Perform At Vernon Jubilee Celebration

VERNON—Probably Canada's top soprano, and a first rate actress in her own right, Betty Phillips, has been engaged by director Ian Dobble to play a major role in the diamond jubilee cavalcade scheduled for July 17 and 18 production in the civic arena.

Miss Phillips will bring to Vernon with her a well-known ballet dancer, Dale Clark, also of Vancouver, who will feature in a number of danced sequences involving incidents in the city's history.

Canada's first abattoir for slaughtering hogs was founded in Toronto between 1870 and 1880.

Magic Baking Powder, 3/4 tsp. salt, 1 tbs. granulated sugar. Cut in finely, 3 the shortening. Mix 1 beaten egg and 1/2 c. milk. Make a well in dry ingredients, pour in liquid and mix lightly with a fork. Roll dough out to 3/4" thickness; cut into 4" squares. Place about 2 tbs. chicken mixture on each square, near corner. BERETED CANADIAN TROOPS land on Kojé to reinforce guards on the trouble-infested island housing Communist prisoners of war. Their arrival, along with a contingent of British troops, started a demonstration of shouting and singing among the prisoners and was followed by a Canadian Government expression of displeasure and concern to the State Department in Washington that the paratroopers were sent there without prior Canadian approval.

Ogopogo Loses Head; Vandals At It Again

KELOWNA—Ogopogo has lost his head.

And more than one local person has also "lost patience" with those who cut a cable, thus weakening the appendage so that the fury of gales last week-end toppled the head from the rest of Ogopogo's serpentine length.

It may become necessary to post a sign offering a reward for information leading to the conviction of those who seem to delight in abusing the monster's replica.

The parks board and Regional officials decided the theft of Ogopogo some months ago and feel that his latest outrage is sheer effrontery.

Ogopogo is now in safe custody however in a local shop, and will undergo immediate repairs, a facial, and complete beauty treatment.

Ogo knows that tourists are daily seeking to take his picture and is anxious to return to his place of honor near the city park promenade entrance.

Keremeos Notes

KEREMEOS—J. C. Morris was elected president of the South Similkameen P-TA at the annual meeting held last week.

The following executive was elected: vice-president, Mrs. J. McKay; secretary, Miss E. Bartlett; program, Mrs. J. N. Bush, Mrs. G. Piercy and Mrs. T. Wurz; membership, Mrs. D. Parsons and Mrs. J. S. Sykes; refreshments, Mrs. J. M. Clark and Mrs. W. Quaedvlieg; librarian, Mrs. O. Quaedvlieg; sports, Mrs. J. C. Clarke; press, Mrs. C. Vansanten, convener of oratorical contest committee.

Miss Bartlett's class won the fish bowl for the greatest number of parents present. A letter of appreciation was received from E. B. Sewell for the capes provided for the band by the organization.

Miss Margaret Johnston of Penticton has been appointed to succeed Miss Joyce East as teacher of Division IV in Keremeos elementary school.

Quite a number of local people attended the open air service of members of the various Anglican Churches of the Keremeos-Oliver parish in Okanagan Falls last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clarke celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on Monday at Chain Lakes, where friends entertained at a dinner party.

There was a splendid attendance at the Women's Institute meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Tweddle, who, with members of her family, entertained. This has been an annual event for nearly 40 years and as usual was much enjoyed. Mrs. W. M. Cameron gave a report of the biennial conference at which she was a delegate. A delicious tea was served.

Miss Ben Gregory of New Westminster is a visitor in town.

Mr. Anthony Genn of Victoria was the guest recently of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McGuffie.

Local air cadets under the command of C. O. F. Stephens took part in the annual inspection by Wing Commander W. Marriot of Vancouver, No. 12 Group Headquarters, RCAF, recently. All cadets were given an opportunity for a half hour's flight and as a result of names drawn from a hat, Gerald Clark, Connor Clarke and "Dutch" Van Hook flew to Vancouver and returned by bus.

The local P-TA and other friends entertained at a shower at the home of Mrs. Vansanten in honor of Miss Shirley Sells whose marriage to Mr. Ruggles Clarke will take place in Penticton on July 12. Miss Sells who teaches in the local elementary school was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Norman Smith, whose marriage took place quietly recently in Armstrong at St. James Anglican church with Rev. Sharples officiating, was the honored guest last week at two showers. For her marriage to the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Smith, oldtimers in this district, the bride wore a charming wedding gown of pale blue with white accessories. Entertaining for Mrs. Smith were Mrs. A. Pett and Miss Jean Jones at the home of the former and Mrs. J. Folk on Monday and Tuesday evenings respectively. The bride was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts.

A BROTHER AND SISTER, Peter Waldner and Theresa Volk, who parted on a farm in Hungary 52 years ago, were reunited recently when the CPR's Dominion pulled into Montreal from Vancouver. Mr. Waldner, 68, who is a retired farmer living in New Westminster, B.C., operated three farms before his retirement and came to Canada when he was 14. Mrs. Volk left Hungary in 1945, lived in France four years, and now lives in the metropolis.

Work Should Yield More Than Money —Should Be Source Of Satisfaction

"A great many people believe that work is what you do to earn enough so that you can have fun during the time when you don't have to work," sums up Dr. R. O. Jones, professor of psychiatry, Dalhousie University, in an article in a recent issue of Health.

"This is a poor and curious philosophy, and it would be an important social change to make some general modification in this attitude by trying to teach our young people that work has some worth for itself and should be a source of satisfaction and of support to our mental health."

Dr. Jones points out that this is all the more so today, when homes are no longer close-knit family groups of people who do things together and give each other mutual support.

Work, he writes in the Health League of Canada magazine, should yield economic security, some measure of satisfaction from creative activity, and social contacts. And Dr. Jones finds that business and industry are attempting to meet these human needs in some degree. Furthermore he cites actual cases where study has shown that where these needs have been met successfully, absenteeism has been substantially reduced and production has increased.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE HELPS
The Maritime psychiatrist does not think for a minute that vocational guidance has all the answers; but he does believe that a careful selection of workers and a fitting of individuals to jobs according to their temperament and ability is an important starting point.

"The worker who isn't properly placed in a job is almost bound to be discontented and dissatisfied," comments Dr. Jones. "Discontentment and dissatisfaction are just about as contagious as the measles, and only a very few workers feeling this way may infect all the rest of the plant."

The second recommendation in the Health League of Canada magazine article is for the provision of consultation facilities for workers who are dissatisfied. In companies where there is a medical service, a worker with any health problem, either mental or physical, should be encouraged to discuss his case with the doctor or nurse in charge.

Even in smaller plants which cannot afford their own personnel and medical services, something can be done about the all-important morale factor, notes Dr. Jones. Good morale is achieved when the natural leaders that occur in every group of individuals are recognized and the informal organization that forms around them fits as closely as possible with the formal organization of the plant. This makes the natural leader into the real leader rather than a subversive force which may run against the goals of management.

"Techniques have been devised to study plants and to pick out natural leaders," adds Dr. Jones. "This proved effective in raising military morale and it has proved equally effective among civilians."

Dr. Jones concludes by declaring that the mental health of industrial workers and of the nation as a whole could be greatly improved if everyone concerned made use of the many facts now available as a result of a great deal of research by social scientists.

The Member Reports

By O. L. Jones, M.P. for Yale

Both the committees on foot-and-mouth disease and defence expenditure have concluded their hearings and finished their labours. Neither committee produced a satisfactory conclusion and from my point of view, both have taken up a good deal of time without accomplishing any useful purpose. The opposition members were completely frustrated in their efforts to get further evidence on the incidence of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan. The Government members of the committee claiming that to prolong the discussion would mean lengthening the period until we can again assume the American Market for Canadian cattle and meat. With a Liberal majority on this committee, the end was inevitable—and so closes another chapter.

The Defence Committee has prepared a statement to be given to the House on the work done by the committee, but it contains no recommendation. However, I feel that the thoroughness with which witnesses were investigated will bring to the various defence departments a greater awareness of the watchfulness of the elected members of Parliament over their affairs.

Mr. Gardiner introduced an addition to the Cold Storage Act, changing the subsidy payments as contained in the old Act whereby the Provincial Government paid 30 percent of the cost with an initial payment to be made followed by four equal payments. Mr. Gardiner pointed out that some of the provinces might desire to make a grant as well towards the establishment of cold storage plants and for that reason it was thought better to have a three-way split: one third by the Federal Government; one third by the Province; and one third by those desiring to have the storage constructed. That explains the change from 30 percent to 33 1/3 percent. Mr. Gardiner pointed out that there has been no relationship with the provinces in connection with this matter, but it has been discussed with co-operatives and others who are putting in cold storage facilities and it was pointed out by those people that some of the provinces might be willing to assist in their erection. With this slight alteration the Cold Storage Act remains practically the same. The provision to pay 50 percent on the cost of a creamery cold storage does not come under this Act. Mr. Gardiner clarified the point as to who can borrow under this act. His words were as follows:

"Anyone who is constructing cold storage facilities can obtain a grant, whether it is an individual, a corporation or a co-operative. However, in so far as freezer plants are concerned, which are provided for under this act, only co-operatives can obtain a grant."

Mr. Drew dealt with conservation and development of natural resources in Canada, urging the government to protect and develop industries rather than ship our raw materials abroad. He illustrated his point in these words:

"Merely by way of illustration, I recall the fact that today we are exporting iron ore from British Columbia to Japan, which returns in the form of steel ignites. We are exporting iron to the United States, and we see it returning in the form of steel to be used in industry in this country. We are exporting iron ore across the Atlantic also to be returned in the form of steel."

"The important thing for all of us to remember is that at the same time we are exporting these raw materials, we are also exporting the most valuable asset this country possesses, and that is the young Canadians educated and trained here in our own country at the public expense, because those young Canadians are seeking employment elsewhere. In a great many cases they are leaving Canada to seek employment in those very industrial plants which are making finished products from the iron ore and other raw materials we export in an unprocessed state from this country."

He was followed by Mr. Coldwell, who had this to say about the matter:

"Mr. Speaker, with a great deal of what the leader of the opposition (Mr. Drew) said in the course of his speech I think all members of the house will find themselves in agreement. I think everyone here is conscious of the desirability of doing everything possible both by conserving our resources and by planning for their efficient use within Canada so that the citizens of Canada now and hereafter will
